Smoking Up Again—With Assistance.

GATHERED AT PAYNE'S BIER

The Chief Magistrate and Cabinet at Postmaster General's Funeral.

SERVICES AT CHURCH

Ceremony at St. John's Attended by Representatives of Army and Navy.

BODY TAKEN TO MILWAUKEE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.

President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet, practically all of the members of the diplomatic corps now in Washington, representatives of all the government departments and of the army and navy today united in a last tribute of respect to the memory of Henry Clay Payne, late postmaster general, at St. John's church.

The funeral services were simple. Uniformed letter carriers bore the body of their chief, and practically the entire force of postmen of Washington marched as an escort to the hearse when the body was taken to the train which bore it away to Milwaukee for burial.

It was the desire of President Roosevelt that every distinction be paid to the memory of the late postmaster general, whose personality was so dear to the inner administration circle. It is only a block from the Arlington hotel, where Postmaster General Payne died, to St. John's church. Almost hidden from sight by beautiful flowers, the coffin was borne into the church and set before the chancel rail by eight letter carriers. The chancel was filled with magnificent floral tributes from friends and official acquaintances in Washington and elsewhere. Officers of the army, navy and marine corps in dress uniform acted as ushers.

President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt entered through a side door and were ushered to a pew directly opposite the coffin. Behind the president were Col. Bromwell and two aids. To the left of the president sat Mrs. Payne and the members of her family, and directly behind them the private secretary to the postmaster general, F. H. Whitney. The honorary pallbearers, Secretaries Hay, Hitchcock and Wilson, were seated near the president.

A section of the church was reserved for 100 officials of the postoffice department. George B. Cortelyou, whom the president intends to appoint postmaster general after the election, came to Washington for the funeral.

As the body was carried into the church the rector of St. John's, the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, read a Psalm, "I am the resurrection and the light." A selection chanted by the choir was followed by the hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light." The Rev. E. S. Dunlap, curate of St. John's, assisted in the service.

After the service Mrs. Payne and the members of her family returned to the Arlington and received many friends who called. The funeral train left for Milwaukee over the Pennsylvania railroad at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Ceased Work During Funeral.

Out of respect to the memory of Henry C. Payne, postmaster general of the United States, all work at the postoffices of the country was suspended between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. yesterday. The Pittsburgh and Allegheny offices presented a gloomy appearance during the suspension. This is only the second time Postmaster Holliday has closed all departments under him.

MOORE WOULD NOT RIDE REPUBLICAN ELEPHANT

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—With a 18,000-pound elephant, music, red lights and a procession composed of the representatives of a dozen Republican political clubs, J. Hampton Moore and his fellow delegates to the Indianapolis convention, tonight met with a rousing reception upon their arrival at Broad street station.

The committee had a ladder ready, but Mr. Moore could not be induced to make the ascent and ride the elephant. The procession then started down Broad street. At the Union Republican club President Moore was escorted to the balcony. Upon his appearance the "G. O. P." knelt on the asphalt, saluted and trumpeted.

Speeches of felicitation followed, Assistant District Attorney Edwards of Pittsburgh being one of the speakers.

JUDGE PARKER INSPECTS CORNFIELD AND PLOWING

ESOPUS, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Judge Parker arrived at Rosemount from New York this afternoon. There were no visitors awaiting him, so he seized the opportunity to inspect his cornfield, the barnyard and the fall plowing. Although he will probably return to New York on Monday, he intends to curtail his visits to the city in the future.

SECRETARY TAFT TALKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

QUINCY, ILL., Oct. 7.—Secretary of War Taft addressed a large audience at Turner hall here tonight. The secretary was met at Hannibal, Mo., this afternoon and escorted to Quincy by a committee of 30 prominent citizens, afterward being accompanied to the place of speaking by a parade.

PEKIN, Oct. 7.—An edict issued today appoints Liang Tuyen to succeed Tang Shao Ki, who is going to Lassa, as taotai of Tientsin. Liang Tuyen was educated at Yale.

HOPE ABANDONED BY DEMOCRATS

They Know Now That Parker Has No Show to Be Elected President.

ROOSEVELT SURE OF NEW YORK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.

"The Democrats have abandoned the Parker campaign. They know that he has not only no show to be elected, but that he cannot come within 75,000 of carrying New York state. The Democrats in this state are concentrating all their energies in an effort to elect Herrick."

That statement was made at the Fifth Avenue hotel today by Louis F. Payn, Republican state committeeman from Columbia county. Mr. Payn attended the meeting of the state committee today, and this afternoon saw Gov. Odell, who arrived from St. Louis.

"Three weeks ago the Democrats abandoned all hope of electing Parker," Mr. Payn continued. "You can read that in the face of every Democrat of prominence. You can read it between the lines in what is written in the Democratic newspapers. In this state they are simply trying now for the governorship, an assemblyman here and there and a few congressmen.

"Roosevelt is running splendidly in my section of the state. They are talking of a plurality of 75,000 for Roosevelt in the state, but I should not be surprised if it would be much larger than that. Many Democrats are going to vote the Republican national ticket. Why, in the four counties in my district from five to 40 Democrats in every town have announced their intention of supporting Roosevelt. The farmers are prosperous and are getting the highest prices for their products since the war. They attribute the low prices and hard times of ten years ago to the Cleveland administration, and give the present administration credit for their present prosperity."

Bets were made in Wall street today at odd of 10 to 4 that Roosevelt will be elected. R. W. Wilson, on the Broad street curb, wagered $1,000 to $400 with Zimmerman & Forshay and Bunnell & Buchanan bet $1,000 to $400 with a stock exchange firm whose name was not disclosed.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS PAY VISIT TO BERWYN

Crack Safe, Obtain $500 in Plunder, and Then as Usual Fade Away.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—After remaining quiet for nearly a week, the gang of cracksmen who have been operating at post offices along the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad recently, visited Berwyn early this morning. They forced an entrance to the post office; blew open the safe; secured nearly $500 in stamps and money; engaged in a revolver duel with a man who attempted to interrupt them at their work, and then as usual faded from view.

NEVER SAW FIANCE.

Bride's First Introduction to Pittsburgh Groom Was on Her Wedding Day.

COLUMBUS, IND., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Miss Chrisanthe Zaharakos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Zaharakos of this city, and John Bazotis of Pittsburgh, were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city today. Greeks from all over this country were present. Ambrose Mandiaris, a Greek priest of Chicago, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore many diamonds, and jewelry was showered on her by her husband, the best man and the immediate relatives of the bride. The bride never met her intended husband until last evening. The marriage was arranged entirely by her brothers.

M. E. INGALLS MAKES A DEMOCRATIC SPEECH

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four Railroad Company, was the principal speaker at a Democratic meeting in Tomlinson hall tonight. The speaker was escorted to the hall by a procession of railroad men and Democratic marching clubs. A. M. Sweeney of this city, who presided, introduced the speaker. At the conclusion of Mr. Ingalls' address, B. F. Shively of Indiana spoke briefly.

STEEL INDUSTRY TAKES NEW TURN

Schwab Says General Increase in Production Will Be Experienced.

IS COMING TO PITTSBURGH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.

Before leaving for Pittsburgh tonight, Charles M. Schwab made the following statement:

"The only thing I can say is that the turn for the better in the iron and steel industry has arrived. You will witness a general increase in production, and if 1905 is a poor year from the standpoint of iron and steel I will be very much surprised.

"I am not in a position as yet to make any statement in connection with the United States Shipbuilding Company. Of course there will be a reorganization of the personnel of the company.

"As to my reported heavy purchases of Steel Corporation issues in San Francisco, I have nothing to say. That is a private matter. Western agricultural conditions could not be brighter."

Mr. Schwab is making preparations for an European business trip. He has not selected the vessel on which he will sail.

A close friend of Mr. Schwab says all of Mr. Schwab's old-time energy has returned.

DOG FLAGS TRAIN, MASTER BEING DEAD

Absence of Track Walker from His Beat Along Lehigh Thus Revealed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MT. CARMEL, PA., Oct. 7.—The Lehigh valley passenger train was stopped today by a dog with a red flag danger signal in his mouth standing in the center of the track near Yatesville. For six years the dog accompanied his master, Bernard Dougherty, a track walker on his beat between Yatesville and Shenandoah, Dougherty training the canine to carry the handle of the flag between his teeth. Dougherty died last night.

The dog at daybreak as usual stood outside the house waiting for his master. The former evidently thinking Dougherty had gone without him ran to the track and entering the shanty where the track walker kept a flag, procured it and started along the track until the train was met when the absence of the watchman was discovered.

The crew brought the dog to Yatesville.

E. F. KEARNEY RESIGNS FROM THE ROCK ISLAND

It Is Also Reported That Another Loree Appointee Has Quit the Road.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—E. F. Kearney, general superintendent of mails and assistant general superintendent of transportation of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, yesterday resigned. Mr. Kearney is one of the Pennsylvania officials brought to the Rock Island by former President Loree. No successor has yet been named, but it is believed that one of the old Rock Island officials will be appointed to the office.

It was rumored yesterday that General Manager Miller, another of Loree's appointees, had quit his job, but Mr. Miller closeted himself and through a subordinate stated that no change in the office had been made.

POPE IS A CREDITOR OF THOMAS WAGGAMAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Pope Pius X. appears among the unsecured creditors of Thomas E. Waggaman, recently declared a bankrupt. The item due him, as reported by Mr. Waggaman in his schedule of debts filed in the bankruptcy court, is referred to as a certain check not presented for payment. The check is stated to be for $500.

Callers at Headquarters.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Among other visitors today at Republican headquarters were ex-Senator William Flinn and Fred W. Edwards of Pittsburgh, Fred W. Biesecker of Somerset and Senator Samuel White of Beaver.

DAIRIES CLOSED ABOUT PITCAIRN

State Board of Health Inspector Blames Them for Typhoid Epidemic.

WELLS ON FARMS INFECTED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 7.

As the outcome of an inspection of the water supply of the town of Pitcairn, where an epidemic of typhoid fever prevails, by Dr. W. M. Batt, inspector for the state board of health, a number of dairies have been ordered to suspend service, which will be followed by additional restrictions.

When more than 50 out of Pitcairn's population of 3,000 were stricken with the fever in less than four weeks, Dr. S. N. Rinehart, medical inspector for Allegheny county, asked for state aid. Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary of the state board, commissioned Dr. Batt to make an investigation. He submitted his report to Dr. Lee today.

Dr. Batt examined samples of water taken from a large number of private wells, many of which were on dairy farms. While he did not find therein typhoid bacilli, almost all contained bacteria. His report says that, while the present epidemic has not been directly traced to this, nevertheless it may be probable through the indirect infection by use of the milk. He has advised the boiling of all water, and that all dairies on which there is located an infected spring, stop supplying milk.

FEARLESS BOY WANTED TO BE A MILITARY MAN

Butted His Head Against a Post to Meet the Required Height of the Regular Army.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—E. E. Cummings, United States recruiting officer at Muncie, was presented with a strange case today. Early in the morning a well-proportioned young man came to his office and wanted to enlist in the regular army. He gave his name as William Johnson.

The examination proved him to be in splendid physical condition, but his measurement fell short the fraction of an inch when he was placed under the standard. Young Johnson went away bemoaning his fate.

At noon he returned to the office and asked that he be measured again as he thought there might be some mistake. Officer Cummings complied with the request and was surprised to find that he was the fractional part of an inch taller than required by the regulations.

He made an examination and when he placed his hand on Johnson's head he found a large knot on top. Johnson then confessed that he had butted his head against a post several times to raise the knot and thus increase his height.

ITALIAN BANDITS' WORK.

They Shoot Down Laborers, Killing Two, Wounding Three, Following a Demand for Money.

BREWSTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Last night five Italians appeared at the place of a padrone known as "Big Frank," who conducts an Italian boarding house here, and demanded money of the dozen men who lived there. Before the victims could offer any resistance the brigands opened fire.

Genaro Tivoli was shot through the heart. The padrone received a bullet in the lungs and died today. A third man was probably fatally stabbed, while two more were shot. Before the robbers escaped they got several of the pay envelopes of the men. The men are now believed to be hiding in the woods north of this place. Two of the wounded were taken to Danbury.

A $100,000 MAUSOLEUM FOR HANNA FAMILY

WORCESTER, MASS., Oct. 7.—The sons of Senator Marcus A. Hanna are to erect a $100,000 mausoleum on the family lot in Lakeview cemetery, Cleveland, to contain 18 catacombs for members of the Hanna family, in the center will lie two mammoth sarcophagi of pure Norwegian marble. One will contain the body of Senator Hanna, the other will be the final resting place of Mrs. Hanna.

HURRIED TO MEET OCEAN

Battleship Nebraska Slid Down the Ways Ahead of Time.

UNCLE SAM ALERT

Government Is Guarding New Vessels Against Conspiracy to Destroy Them.

ALL UNDER ARMED GUARDS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SEATTLE, WASH., Oct. 7.—The new battleship Nebraska was launched this afternoon at 2:02 o'clock. She broke away 11 minutes ahead of time. No one was hurt and no damage was done.

The Nebraska slid into the water on an absolutely even keel. Everything about the launching was successful, beyond the fact that the supports were weakened too quickly by the workmen. The vessel was christened by Miss Mary Main Mickey, a daughter of Gov. Mickey of Nebraska.

The Nebraska is the first battleship constructed on the Pacific coast north of San Francisco, and all the leading army and state officials in the forts west took part in the program. She was constructed at the yards of the Moran Brothers Company, and is now the largest battleship of the United States navy afloat.

The vessel has a displacement of 15,000 tons. Her contract price is $3,723,000. Her length is 441 feet, 3 inches; her weight at launching, 14,500,000 pounds; speed, 19 knots; horse power, 19,000.

The Nebraska's main battery consists of four 12-inch guns, eight 8-inch and 12 6-inch guns. In her secondary battery she carries 14 3-inch guns, 12 3-pounders, 16 small guns and four 12-inch torpedo tubes. Her complement of officers will be 40; crew 772.

Fearful of Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The shipyards in which government vessels are under construction are taking unusual precautions to prevent attempts to injure the ships. The determined efforts made to wreck the battleship Connecticut, the mysterious fire in the hold of the battleship Kansas, and reputed attempts to injure the submarines built at the Ford river yards, presumably for Japan, has led to the fear that a mysterious conspiracy is in existence for the destruction of United States warships.

At the Cramp, Newport News, Bath, Fore River and other shipyards where government work is being done, stringent regulations are in force concerning the admission of outsiders to the yards, and extreme care is taken in keeping the warships in course of construction under observation at all times.

FIRE ON THE KANSAS.

It Follows Captain Randle's Ridiculing of Excitement Over Attempt to Destroy the Connecticut.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Only a few hours after Capt. W. G. Randle of the New York Shipbuilding Company in Camden had ridiculed yesterday the excitement at the Brooklyn navy yard over the alleged attempts to destroy the battleship Connecticut, a fire broke out in the battleship Kansas, on the ways of the New York Shipbuilding Company.

The blaze, although of small proportions, was sufficiently serious to cause a rigid investigation to be made, and to create at first some suspicion that it did not start by accident. It was found, however, that a hot rivet fell into sawdust, smoldered and caused the fire.

QUAKER FIRM REFUSES TO SELL BELTS TO ARMY

A Philadelphia Manufacturer Writes a Unique Letter to the Navy Department.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A Philadelphia Quaker who manufactures leather belting has refused to furnish belts for use in the army and navy because he does not believe in war. In a letter to the navy department he says:

"Replying to thy inquiry for price on belts for the navy department, we would say that as members of the Society of Friends we are advocates of peace, and feel that it is more consistent with our principles not to attempt to make money by selling to the war and navy departments. We are naturally glad to do business and would say that this is purely a question of principle with us."

PLUNGED OVER BANK.

Traction Car Jumps Track at Sharp Curve in East Pittsburgh and Two Are Hurt.

On reaching the curve in Grandview avenue, near South Park street, East Pittsburgh, car No. 40 on the Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh division jumped the tracks and plunged over the embankment at 12:45 o'clock this morning. The truck of the car ploughed through the soft earth for about two lengths of the car and then stopped on the steep hillside, about 800 feet above the tracks of the Bessemer railroad.

The car was left hanging on the steep cliff by the employes and it will be removed by the company today. There were no passengers in the car when the accident occurred. Motorman Frank Donnelly and Conductor James Derber were thrown from the car and bruised about the face and body. About a year ago a traction car jumped the tracks at the same point and went part way over the hill.

Beecher's Son Sues for Divorce.

TACOMA, WASH., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Col. Henry Barton Beecher, eldest son of the late Henry Ward Beecher, has begun a suit for divorce from his wife, Harriet Beecher. It is said Col. Beecher came west seven months ago with this intention in view.

ASKS REMOVAL OF MAJ. SIBERT

Union Bridge Company Says Engineer Should Step Down.

STRONG BRIEF FILED

Allegations Made That Such Officers Are Easily Influenced by River Men.

CALLS HEARINGS MOCKERIES

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.

The attorneys of the Union Bridge Company of Pittsburgh ask for the removal of Maj. W. L. Sibert from the Pittsburgh district in their brief in the matter of proposed alterations for the bridge, filed at the war department this morning. In addition to this request the charge is made that Maj. Sibert has not acted fairly and impartially in making up his report on the subject. The document is a lengthy one and three copies were filed at the department. The Union Bridge Company is represented by William B. Rodgers, McCleave & Went and O. D. Thompson.

After calling attention to features of the legislation under which action against the bridge company was taken the attorneys go on to show that the secretary of war cannot personally take charge of cases of this character but must rely upon the repert of his agent; namely, the government engineer in charge of the stream affected. The brief continues:

Easily Influenced by River Men.

Such an engineer, engaged in such a business, necessarily has his contact, his business and his social relations with the men who are concerned or interested in the stream at which the engineer may have jurisdiction. Such an engineer is not thrown in association with the people who own the stock of the corporations, who may happen to have bridges across the stream. They live in an unknown world to him, are unknown to him, and of no interest in his life. He is therefore just in a situation to be moved by the selfish suggestions of the ignorant class of people that generally compose the body of rivermen in the United States. It is from such a man, with such surroundings, therefore, that the secretary of war gets his first qualification specified in the act—namely, his good reason to believe.

Having so acquired his belief, without notice to the bridge owner, and from suggestions and by means that the bridge owner can never find out, the act, after thus carefully requiring the secretary to be primed and cocked, ready to go off, then directs him to give notice that he is so ready, and, after a hearing upon such notice, peremptorily requires him to order the bridge down, or altered.

A Temptation to Engineers.

When we consider the enormous value of the property thus practically put at the disposal of anyone of hundreds of engineers, scattered throughout the country, some of them not above temptation, as the records of the war department, and some of the penitentiaries, show, it is not too much to say that no such barbarous legislation can be found upon the statute book of any civilized country.

Such hearing as is provided for is to be had without the power to compel the attendance of witnesses or the giving of testimony; and, such witnesses as may voluntarily appear, can only make statements without the sanction of an oath, and free from the pains and penalties of perjury. This, perhaps, is an immaterial omission, as the act itself dictates beforehand, the only judgment the secretary can render upon such hearing.

In the administration of the act, not only the prejudgment required to be formed by the secretary, is upon secret and unknown grounds, but the report of the engineer, after hearing, is kept a secret document, and the bridge owner never informed of the grounds upon which the engineer comes to his conclusion. Such information has been denied by the department, or, at least, not produced upon request.

Siberi's First Report.

Some time in the first half of the year 1902, Capt. Sibert prepared an address upon "Full Use of the Rivers at Pittsburgh and the Removal of the Obstructions to Such Use," and somehow or other procured an invitation to read the address before the "Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania," which he did, at its meeting upon September 23, 1902. In this address he proposed the rebuilding or raising of all the bridges over the Allegheny river between the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and presented detailed plans showing how he would do the work at each bridge. Of the Union bridge, particularly, he says:

"This bridge is now old and not serviceable for heavy traffic. It will be necessary to rebuild it before it can be utilized. A new bridge is assumed in this case. (That is, assumed by him, to carry out his plans.) The Point bridge has the elevation (to feet) that this bridge should have, and there seems to be no reason why the Pittsburgh approach to the Union bridge should not join the approach to the Point bridge, widening such approach, if necessary. This approach, and the approach in Allegheny city side are shown on blue print. An approach from Duquesne way is also shown. See plate No. 1."

(See "Proceedings of Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania," Vol. XVIII., pages 345, 355.)

The Union Bridge Company had no notice or knowledge that Capt. Sibert was engaged in any investigation whatever as to its bridge, or any other bridge; and the conclusions reached by the captain were the result either of his own private, individual researches, unaided by any one, or perhaps by interests not in any wise friendly to the Union Bridge Company.

Short Time Allowed for Answer.

After this zealous officer of the United States had thus thoroughly qualified himself, by a secret process, to discharge the duties required of him by the war department, under the act of March 3, 1899, the Union bridge, lawfully built, in the absence of any legislation by congress concerning the Allegheny river, and lawfully existing for nearly 30 years, without complaint known to it from any one, one November 3, 1902, received from Capt. Sibert, a notice that the secretary of war has "good reason to believe" that it is an unreasonable obstruction, and that he, Capt. Sibert, will give the bridge company an opportunity to be heard on November 14, 1902, 11 days after the receipt of such notice. As a matter of fact, of course, the secretary of war did not know then anything about the Union bridge. The belief expressed is only the belief of Capt. Sibert, formed, doubtless, at the solicitation of some of the rivermen, and without informing the bridge company that he was making any investigation in respect to the bridge, or giving it an opportunity to be heard as to the conclusion he should reach. He has already made his investigation, arrived at his conclusions, and delivered them to the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania, when we get the notice from him that the secretary of war has "good rea-to believe," and that he will give us the privilege of a hearing 11 days hence.

Say Hearings Were Mockeries.

Two mock hearings are then had before Sibert on November 14 and November 28, wherein he sits as prosecutor, witness, jury and judge, and after the farce is concluded, he promptly does as the act requires him to do, and on December 8, 1902, without notice to the Union Bridge Company, files with the war department his recommendation that the bridge be so altered as to require its complete reconstruction; and his superior officer, without notice to the Union Bridge company, procures his recommendation to be signed as an order by the secretary of war, upon January 18, 1903. In the meantime, the Union Bridge Company has never been given any opportunity to see the face of the secretary, upon whom only is the responsibility placed by the statute; no investigation whatever had, excepting only the mockery before Sibert, prosecutor, witness, jury and judge, and the grounds upon which Sibert had come to his conclusion, kept a secret in the files of the war department.

And what does this queer proceeding mean to the Union Bridge Company? Nothing less than the absolute destruction of its investment of $310,000. The order admittedly requires the removal of the present bridge, and the revenues show that it is impossible to procure the funds to build a new bridge as directed. So it is manifest from the record, that private property to the amount of $310,000 has been finally destroyed by a proceeding begun on November 3, 1902, and conclusively ended January 18, 1903; just 76 days from the beginning of the proceeding.

No Hearing Before Secretary.

We hope it will not escape the notice of the secretary of war that the Union Bridge Company was given by Captain Sibert just 11 days to prepare its case for a hearing, and that no hearing whatsoever was given it before the secretary of war. Comment can add nothing to the grotesque character of such a proceeding before such a man. Though the bringing about of such a result of such great importance to many people, and it may well be, utterly disastrous to the fortunes of some, by such a barbarous proceeding is clearly within the language of the statute, yet it may well be doubted that the congress ever contemplated, in the passage of the act such a lawless confiscation of private property to the extent shown in this case. It is hardly conceivable that the federal legislature intended to place hundreds of millions of property under the absolute will of any single individual, no matter how honorable his office. To apply the act is to create a despotism as bad as that of Russia, or of the Turk.

Ask Major Sibert's Removal.

This is followed by the text of a decision by Justice Brewer regarding the act of May 3, 1899, under which the company's bridge was condemned, and the attorneys contend that under this act a "bill in equity will lies at the suit of the attorney general of the United States to abate such obstruction, and in such proceeding there could be a judicial determination, in the regular course of the administration of justice, of the character of the obstruction; and of the equitable terms and conditions upon which its abatement, if required, should be procured."

The brief concludes thus, in asking for the removal of Maj. Sibert:

We hope that the secretary will see the necessity of annulling absolutely the order made herein, in the interests of justice, and decent administration; and, also, if the matter is to be continued under investigation, the like necessity of removing Maj. Sibert to some other field, and appointing an officer to take up the work, cautioned to have a due sense of the proprieties of his place, and of the immense responsibilities put upon the war department in the administration of the act. L. W. STRAYER.

HAD THE WRONG JUNK.

Three Men Were Heavily Fined for Trying to Sell a Wagonload.

Andrew Schultzman, Frank Riley and H. Wurfschsky were fined $100 each yesterday by Magistrate Stewart. They were arrested by Detectives James Eagan and George Cole at Second avenue and Ross street Thursday afternoon.

When accosted by the detectives the men refused to tell where they got the wagonload of brass, copper and iron junk they were trying to dispose of. Later it was learned that a lot of material had been stolen from the Columbia Construction Company in the East End. Schultzman is said to have been arrested several times before for similar offenses. Wurfschosky was never in trouble before, but had hired his wagon to the men to haul the junk.

CARRIE NATION IS GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

WICHITA, KAN., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, Mrs. Lucy Wilhoit, Mrs. Myra McHenry and Mrs. Lydia Mountz, who made a joint raid here recently, were found guilty in the city court today of destruction of property. Mrs. Nation was fined $150 and given six months in jail; Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Wilhoit were fined $150 each and Mrs. Mountz was fined $50. They gave notice of appeal.

Ramsey to Award Steel Contract.

The bids for the 4,000 tons of steel that will be required for the big freight station which the Wabash is building beside the passenger station trainshed, between Fourth avenue and the Monongahela, were under consultation yesterday. Vice President J. W. Patterson and Alfred P. Boller of New York, the bridge engineer of the Wabash extension, went over the bids. The decision in the matter will be made by President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash.

May Move Headquarters East.

With the election of Robert H. Gardiner of Boston to the presidency of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of America the national headquarters will no doubt be moved to that city. A precedent was established in the election of H. D. W. English of this city to the presidency four years ago, when he requested the headquarters be transferred from New York to Pittsburgh that he might give the duties of his office fuller attention.

WHO CAN MAKE THE BEST PIE

From the Largest Pumpkin? Who Has the Largest Pumpkin in the State?

Pickering, the largest furniture store in the world, corner Tenth and Penn, Pittsburgh, wants every person that owns a pumpkin in this state and thinks it is the largest to cut his name and address on it with penknife, then take it to the express office and ship it to Pickering. All will be placed on exhibition in the big store Hallowe'en week. A committee will pick out the heaviest five.

1st Prize, $10.00 Rocking Chair.
2nd Prize, $ 5.00 Rocking Chair.
3rd Prize, $ 3.00 Rocking Chair.
4th Prize, $ 2.50 Rocking Chair.
5th Prize, $ 2.00 Rocking Chair.

Be sure to cut your name and address on the pumpkin, bring or ship it any time before Hallowe'en. Just as soon as yours arrives we will weigh it, keep an account of it and announce the winners' names next day after Hallowe'en, in our ad. in all Pittsburgh papers.

No pumpkin received after Tuesday, October 25.

Pickering reserves the right to keep and give to the poor all pumpkins sent to him.

The first prize pumpkin will be cut into 20 or more pieces and given to as many ladies as call for it on Wednesday, October 26. To the one making the best pie will be given a $10.00 Rocker, second best pie $5.00 Rocker; third best pie, $3.00 Rocker. The twenty or more pies will be placed on exhibition Saturday, October 29, and on Hallowe'en night 20 boys with their hands tied behind them will eat the pies. The boy that finishes first receives $1 in gold, second $1 in silver.

The seeds of the first prize pumpkin will be done up into 100 or more envelopes. Each farmer calling after November 1 can have one package. Then next year the farmer that produces the largest pumpkin from Pickering's prize seed will receive $15 worth of merchandise; second largest, $10 merchandise; third, $5.00 merchandise.

Now for it! Who has the largest pumpkin? Send it to or bring it to PICKERING'S FURNITURE STORE, Pittsburgh.

P. S.—Is there anything else we could do with the prize pumpkin?

CZAR'S GUARDS GO TO FRONT

Infant Czarevitch's Honorary Command Is Among the Division Chosen.

RUSSIAN SHIPS WRECKED

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—A special dispatch from Mukden, dated October 7, says there has been no change of importance in the general situation there. The blockade at Port Arthur appears not to have been so effective recently, as a number of messengers have slipped through. Latest advices stated that the fortress has sufficient ammunition and provisions to enable the garrison to hold out nine months.

SIN-MIN-TIN, Oct. 7.—There is still an absence of serious fighting about Mukden, though the outpost skirmishes continue. Oku is steadily pushing his advance lines closer to the railroad and Nodzu's divisions are slowly moving toward the Hun river. Both of these commanders apparently are awaiting word from Kuroki indicating that he is ready to strike.

Gen. Zaroubaieff is said to be in command of the Russians now about Mukden, in the absence of Kuropatkin, who is said to have gone to The pass, which will, it is said, be his headquarters for the present.

Gen. Rennenkampff has been instructed to uncover the Japanese right wing at any cost, and is in the field now with practically all the Russian cavalry for that purpose. Upon the result of his scout in force will depend the decision of Kuropatkin as to where he will meet the Japanese attack.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—The first troops of the Imperial Guard left St. Petersburg tonight for the front. They consisted of the Second division of the Finland Guards, of which the infant czarevitch is the honorary colonel.

Prince Mirsky, the new minister of the interior, has held several consultations with the czar since his return from Odessa in which the internal unrest in the empire was discussed and the best methods by which it can be met and overcome were talked over. It is no secret that the numerous outbreaks are giving his majesty and his new minister very serious concern, and it is recognized that unless some means can be devised for at least temporarily ending the dissatisfaction which has led to these outbreaks, that Russia will be seriously handicapped in the war with Japan.

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—It is reported here that the fire of the Japanese land batteries severely damaged four Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur. It is stated that one of the vessels was completely wrecked. The names of none of the ships were given.

A dispatch from Marshal Oyama to the war office today says:

"The enemy, with a battalion of infantry, 11 squadrons of cavalry and five guns, advanced toward Shalluhotzu on October 4 and retreated toward Huangshan October 5. The Russian infantry heading the column wore Chinese costumes.

"On October 4 a small body of the enemy attacked our pickets at Pintaitzu and on the Mukden road, and were repulsed. The enemy left his dead and rifles behind. All the enemy wore Chinese clothing."

Lieut.-Gen. Hasegawa, late commander-in-chief of the Imperial Guards division, will depart for Korea today to assume command of the Japanese forces there. It is probable that the Korean army will be dispersed or brought under Japanese command. Gen. Hasegawa is expected to effect this change at an early date. It is probable that this Japanese mode is made in order to expel the bands of Cossacks now operating in Western and Northwestern Korea.

VLADIVOSTOK, Oct. 7.—Russians who have just returned here from Korea say the Koreans, especially in the southern provinces, are greatly incensed at the high-handed actions of the Japanese, who seize the young men, cut their hair, place them in Japanese uniforms and compel them to enter the ranks.

HAS PLENTY OF MONEY TO PAY WAR EXPENSES

So Declares Russia's Financial Agent, Estimating Cost of Year's Struggle at About $325,000,000.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The financial condition of Russia, with particular reference to the ability of the Russian treasury to meet the enormous war expenses, were discussed tonight by Gregory Vilenkine, the financial agent of the Russian embassy. Mr. Vilenkine said:

"As a whole, the war expenditure of Russia from the beginning of the campaign until the end of the year may be approximately placed at from 625,000,000 to 630,000,000 roubles. The government treasury has at its disposal approximately 700,000,000 roubles, quite sufficient for covering the above expenditure without applying to any new loans."

A Russian gold rouble is worth approximately 50 cents in American money.

RESEMBLE LIVING CORPSES.

Men Look So Who Went Through Terrific Naval Battle With Vladivostok Fleet.

CHELIABINSK, Russia, Oct. 7.—Capt. Andreieff of the Russian armored cruiser Rossia of the Vladivostok squadron passed through here October 6 on the way to Eastern Russia. He is suffering from an acute form of nervous prostration, the result of the terrific tension during the naval fight with the Japanese fleet under Admiral Kamimura.

The same ailment affects many of the wounded who are being invalided home, and who look like living corpses. It seems impossible for the nervous system to recuperate from the awful strain to which it is subjected in a modern naval battle.

W. K. VANDERBILT ORDERS SPECIAL RUN SLOWER

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—W. K. Vanderbilt passed through the city this morning over the New York Central to the new coal fields in Indiana county. While near Ashland, the train ran so fast Mr. Vanderbilt pulled the whistle cord, and directed the conductor to have the train run slower. The special was going about 70 miles an hour.

PITTSBURGH BOYS BRIGADE AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The United Boys' Brigade of America began their annual meeting here today. About 500 boys are in attendance, including a company brought here from Pittsburgh by Commander-in-Chief Bope. An athletic contest was scheduled for this morning, but owing to a misunderstanding as to the use of the grounds, the boys had to give away to a local football team.

JOSEPH COLTART MORRIS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Was Descended from an Old Pittsburgh Family and Was Prominent Financier.

Joseph Coltart Morris of Morris, Brown & Co., one of the best known financiers of Pittsburgh, and a member of both the Pittsburgh and New York stock exchanges, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the Coltart mansion, Forbes street, where he was born and where he had spent his life. His death removes one who until a couple of years ago had been an active figure in the business affairs of the city. He was unmarried.

Mr. Morris came from one of the oldest Pittsburgh families. His father was David A. Morris and his mother Mary J. Coltart, whose family name is perpetuated by Coltart square, Oakland, opposite which stands the old mansion.

Mr. Morris was educated in this city and completed his schooling at the Western university. For several years he was employed in the Union Line offices and left there to enter the employ of Edward S. Pinkerton, the oil broker. This firm he left to enter the brokerage business on his own account. He became a member of the Pittsburgh Oil exchange in 1882. His health became poor several years ago, and for two years he has been able to attend to but little active work. His partnership with Richard R. Brown in the firm of Morris & Brown dates back to 1886. He remained the senior partner of the firm, which is now styled Morris, Brown & Co. He was one of the five Pittsburgh brokers who are members of the New York exchange. He was a member of the Duquesne club. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Willis L. King and Miss Jean J. Morris.

Mr. Morris was a man of fine musical taste and was passionately fond of the violin, upon which he performed with rare skill. He had for years been collecting the finest specimens of the violinmaker's art and owned several instruments which the great violinists of the present day were fond of playing.

The funeral services will be held at his late home at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, Jr., will officiate. Interment will follow in the family burial ground in Allegheny cemetery.

DR. OHLENDORF ARRESTED.

Washington (D. C.) Physician Accused of Murder—Death of Ohio Girl Recalled.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Dr. Joseph C. Ohlendorf of Washington, was arrested tonight on charge of murder. His arrest recalls a series of tragedies which occurred in this city about a year ago. Miss Margaret Hale of Marietta, Ohio, an employe of the government printing office, died suddenly at the Brentmar sanitarium, Brentwood, Md., which Dr. Ohlendorf was conducting.

An autopsy showed that death was the result of an operation, but the death certificate issued by Dr. Ohlendorf gave heart trouble as the cause of the disease. The doctor was arrested at that time but soon released.

CHAUFFER NOYES WAS DRUNK.

Son of Agent for Pittsburgh Whisky House Thus Explains Fatal Accident.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The automobile tragedy of this morning in which three lives were lost and several injured is said by Moses Spies, aged 30, who himself received a fractured jaw and lacerations of the head and body, to be the result of Albert Noyes, the chauffeur, being drunk. On this point he is corroborated by Policeman Finnegan.

Spies is a bookkeeper for his father, who is New York agent of a Pittsburgh whisky house.

COMPLAINT TO BE MADE TO LARKIN

Firemen and Policemen Angry Because Wagonmen and Sergeants Get Vacations.

CLAIM THE LAW IS VIOLATED

Firemen and policemen have a new grievance against the public safety officials, and it is one that is likely to cause friction between Controller Larkin and Director Moore. Having been refused vacations themselves, the firemen and patrolmen have quietly designated several of their number to notify Controller Larkin that the public safety officials have shown partiality to the wagonmen and sergeants in the police bureau by permitting them to take vacations for 10 days with full pay.

This is said to be in violation of the law, because the 44 wagonmen and 20 sergeants thus favored are paid by the day and not by the month, and are not considered by the controller to be entitled to a vacation with pay.

A wagonman receives $3 per day and the sergeants $3 25 per day. They are supposed to be paid only for the days they work, and whenever an employe of the police bureau lays off for a day he loses his salary for that day. An employe who is paid by the month receives his pay for any day he may lay off, and if he employs a substitute in his place he pays the substitute out of his own salary. The firemen are paid by the month. The policemen also wanted a vacation, but were told that as they were paid by the day they could not get a vacation without losing their salary for the whole time they were off.

The firemen were refused a vacation this year on the plea that it would be dangerous to run the department one or two men short in each company, and that the fire appropriation was too short to permit substitutes to be employed. Notwithstanding this argument by Director Moore and Mayor Hays, $15,000 was transferred from the fire fund to hold the bond election, and resolutions are now in councils to transfer $12,400 more from the fire fund.

For these reasons the firemen and policemen are deeply incensed by the discovery that the wagonmen and sergeants are being granted vacations with pay. They are satisfied that if Controller Larkin hears of this he will start more trouble with the administration.

"The controller will be fully informed of the situation. The firemen are particularly angry because they are compelled to be on duty 24 hours every day, while the wagonmen and sergeants are on duty less than 12 hours every day.

OCCUPANTS IN PANIC.

False Alarm of Fire Quickly Empties Flat Building, People Leaving Beds and Fly for Safety.

About 50 occupants of the Normandie flat building, Fifth avenue and Sinclair street, McKeesport, early yesterday morning made a wild scramble in their night clothing to get out into the cold, believing the block was burning down. Women and children in various stages of toilet and with clothing in their arms, directed by men who were little more fully dressed, stumbled out of the dark hallways and down the several flights of steps into the street. Someone turned in an alarm from the box at the corner and then three telephones at Central police station were started at the same time.

Lieut. John Engert and a squad of officers hurried to the place. After a hasty search which failed to reveal any trace of fire the officers and firemen discovered a man giving his name as William Edmundson lying in the rear of the hallway in a drunken stupor. He was taken to the police station and quiet was restored at the flat building. Edmundson told Mayor Falkenstein that he went into the hallway and yelled fire to scare the inmates of the building.

LADY CURZON NEAR DEATH.

Her Condition Was Still Grave at an Early Hour This Morning.

WALMER CASTLE, KENT., Oct. 8.—(2:30 a. m.)—Lady Curzon was yesterday seized with chilliness and rigors, portending a crisis. It appears there was some secretion that had possibly been overlooked in the first operation, or that formed subsequently, which led to apprehension that a second operation for peritonitis might be necessary, and hence the hurried summoning of specialists from London.

Mrs. and Miss Leiter, who were staying at Deal, also were summoned in the belief that the end was not distant. It is understood the condition of Lady Curzon continues grave.

Identified as James Reese.

A woman who refused to give her name called at the morgue yesterday and said that the body of the man found dead on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near Brady street several night ago was known in Hazelwood as James Reese. Pension papers found on the body bore the name James Purines and an Akron address. The woman said the man boarded with a Mrs. Daley and she would bring her in to the coroner. A telegram was received from John Wilhelm of Akron, O., asking for particulars regarding the death.

Found Dead in Bed.

Mrs. Maria O'Neil, aged 52 years, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at her home, 2604 Forbes street. She had been in ill health for about two years. Thursday night she was feeling worse and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Fay, called in Dr. H. M. Hall who gave a hyperdermic injection after which she at once went to sleep. Mrs. Fay and another daughter slept in the same room with her, and found her dead when they awoke early yesterday morning.

Mother and Child Burned.

A burning pile of rubbish in a vacant lot in Cobden street yesterday drew the children of the neighborhood to the scene. Mary, the little daughter of John Lentz, a millworker, played about the fire and her clothing caught fire. The little girl's mother heard her screams and ran and extinguished the blaze. The mother's hands were seriously scorched and the child's back was painfully but not seriously burned. Dr. T. F. Cochran was called in to dress the wounds.

Merger of Water Plants.

The South Pittsburgh Water Company of Sheraden has acquired control of the Chartiers Valley company's plant and extensive improvements have been planned. The improvements are to include larger mains and a filtration plant.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

TWO NEW DIOCESES FOR CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA

Episcopal House of Deputies Recommends This to House of Bishops.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—At a short session of the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention today, the committee on the admission of new dioceses recommended that Central Pennsylvania be divided into two dioceses, and that the missionary district of Montana be admitted into union with the general convention as a full-fledged diocese. The recommendations were referred to the house of bishops.

Many missionary reports were submitted regarding the work of the past three years. All were satisfactory except one, which stated that a number of dioceses had failed to contribute their share of the fund assessed under the apportionment plan.

The Rev. Hiram Hulse, a Cuban missionary, advocated the election of a bishop for Cuba, and Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee of Washington, D. C., presented a resolution asking that a missionary bishop for Mexico be appointed. No action was taken on either proposition.

The convention sent greetings and assurances of profound sympathy to the international peace congress.

The archbishop of Canterbury and several American bishops addressed a meeting of students, held under the auspices of St. Paul's society of Harvard, in Cambridge tonight.

KELLY FOUND WATCHES.

Had Been Buried at Foot of a Tree for Months in Craft Avenue Neighborhood.

Detective Richard Kelly found a box of watches buried at the foot of a tree behind the Welsh Presbyterian church, Craft avenue, yesterday afternoon. The jewelry was the property of the Globe Watch Company of the Keystone building, and had been left by their salesman, Charles Barti, with Joseph Feeney, who formerly kept a drug store at Ophelia street and Kennett square, Oakland. Feeney denied the jewelry had been left with him.

Several months ago Feeney closed his drug store and went to Lorain, O. He got in some financial difficulties and told one of his creditors he had some watches in this city which he could realize some money on, and revealed the place where he had buried them.

Yesterday W. A. Hughes, city solicitor of Lorain, and Detective Kelly, after digging about several trees in the rear of the church, found the watches. They were valued at $500.

The detective and solicitor had hardly gotten away when several negroes started to dig for the alleged bag of gold.

BLUE LAW DETECTIVES QUIT.

Agent P. T. Gamble Also Faces $165 in Unpaid Costs on Informations.

Agent P. T. Gamble of the Allegheny County Sabbath association has been forsaken by the Anti-Saloon league detectives in the blue law crusade, and is indebted to Justice Miller of Homstead to the extent of $165 for costs accruing in the making of 110 informations against park employes during July and August. The informations were made out against "John Doe," and service has been impossible. Justice Miller believes it will not be necessary to resort to litigation to collect his costs.

Abandoned by his detectives, Mr. Gamble will not institute a searching inquiry for violators of the Sunday law of 1794 tomorrow, but is arranging for the services of a new crew of men.

Cassatt Party Returns East.

President Cassatt and the party of Pennsylvania officials who spent Thursday night in their special train at Shadyside, went east yesterday and reached Philadelphia last evening. Their route was over the Brilliant cut-off to the Allegheny Valley, to Kiskiminitas Junction, over the West Penn to Bolivar, over the main line to Gallitzin, the new Portage road to Hollidaysburg, the Petersburg branch to Petersburg and the main line to Philadelphia.

FAIRBANKS TALKS TO WOMEN VOTERS

Vice Presidential Candidate Is Campaigning in Utah and Wyoming.

YOUNG LADIES IN AUDIENCE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

EVANSTON, WYO., Oct. 7.—This little city on the extreme western border of Wyoming, tonight holds within its borders six United States senators. They are Messrs. Fairbanks, Dolliver, Fulton, Kearns, Warren and Clark. This is the home of Senator Clark, and he and Senator Warren, with a number of other Wyoming Republicans, met Senator Fairbanks and party in Utah.

Senator Clark presided at a meeting held in the opera house here tonight, and speeches were made by Senators Fairbanks, Dolliver and Fulton and Representative Smith. A conspicuous feature in the audience was a body of 40 young ladies constituting the Evanston Women's Club of First Voters. The hall was crowded, and the speeches were all received most favorably.

As the special train was preparing to pull out of Brigham, Utah, a number of young women employes of an adjacent tomato cannery came up to shake hands with Senator Fairbanks.

"How many of you can vote?" asked Senator Dolliver.

Only one confessed that she was old enough to vote.

"Be sure you vote the Republican ticket," said the senator.

"You can bet your life on that," was the reply as the train left the station.

MANY CORPORATIONS SUED.

West Virginia Attorney General Brings Suit, Owing to Failure to Comply With Law.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The attorney general of the state has just instituted suit in the circuit court of Kanawha county, at Charleston against 12,000 corporations for the forfeiture of their charters. Nearly every case is on account of failure to make reports required by the state law.

Action can be stopped by complying with the law and paying the costs, which amount to $44 in each case. The total costs amount to $528,000.

DISCHARGES MEN CHARGED WITH SUNDAY WORK

The six employes of the Allegheny Plate Glass Company arrested for working on Sunday at the plant at Grassmere, near Tarentum were discharged last night upon a promise not to repeat the offense. Justice Ulinger of Hites station heard the cases, the defendants being Supt. H. W. Cochran, Julius Werf, Jeff Vennable, Henry Glumer, David Jones and Henry Mickey. Stockholders of the company promised Judge Ulinger that if the men were discharged the Sunday work at the plant would be stopped. Six section hands employed by the West Penn railroad will have a hearing some time next week.

Laundry Driver Held Up.

In board daylight and on a public road Thomas Robinson, driver for the J. C. Little Laundry Company of McKeesport, was held up and robbed yesterday, between Elizabeth and Clairton, the robbers securing a purse containing $25. The men were masked and Robinson was shot at while pursuing the thieves. They made their escape.

ACCIDENT AT LIBRARY.

Overloaded Scaffold at the Schenley Park Building Falls.

An overloaded scaffold, built inside one of the towers of the Carnegie library, which are being torn down, fell at 11:05 a. m. yesterday, dropping four workmen to the floor, 40 feet below. They were all severely but not fatally injured.

Charles Bond suffered a dislocation of the right shoulder and a bad sprain of the left leg. John Shulic received bad cuts and bruises and internal injuries. Tony Slora was cut about the head and body and badly bruised. Frank Buch received bad bruises about the body. They were all taken to their homes except Bond, who was taken to the Mercy hospital.

The scaffold carried an elevator used in lowering the stone and debris from the tower. The orders were not to allow debris to accumulate on the top of the scaffold, but this warning was disregarded. This is the first accident which has happened at the demolition of the big towers.

THREE GUARDS ARE SUSPENDED

Prison Board Takes Action on the Attempted Escape from the Penitentiary.

CHRISTIAN CANNOT LIVE LONG

Three guards at the Western penitentiary were suspended yesterday by the prison board, but the board approved the disciplinary system in operation in the institution. Former Mayor William J. Diehl presided in the absence of Chairman David B. Oliver. The other members present were Capt. James R. Reed, D. L. Gillespie and W. N. Kerr.

The way things are managed by Warden William McC. Johnston are entirely satisfactory to the board, according to Mr. Diehl, who spoke on behalf of the other members after adjournment. The trouble of last week, he says, was due altogether to the carelessness of the keepers, and cannot be blamed upon the system for guarding the inmates. Thomas Hill, James P. Rowbottom and Mr. R. Cawley, the three keepers who several times passed the cell in which a dummy reposed on the bed of Convict William Freeman, who was on the roof trying to escape last Thursday week, were suspended. The length of time their punishment is to last was not made known by the board. Freeman will be disciplined for a period by solitary confinement, and will be denied the privileges accorded to well-behaved prisoners during the remainder of his sentence.

Warden Johnston reported to the board that Charles Edwards, or Charles Jones, as he is known in the prison, is rapidly improving after the assault made upon him by George E. Christian, the negro murderer. The name of Edwards appears on the commitment, but the injured man, while serving a prior term, was known by the name of Jones. By this name he is still called by the keepers who knew him before.

The future disposition of Christian was discussed, and it was decided that hereafter he must be kept in a cage, or an isolated cell, where mingling or communication with other prisoners will be impossible. None of the board will admit positively that the man would remain in solitary confinement for the rest of his life, but the penalty to be inflicted is practically equivalent to this punishment. Christian for years has suffered from a disease that is said to be incurable, and since his battle with Jones last Saturday night he has become worse. It is thought he will not live long.

Warden Johnston in his report recommended that in cases such as the cutting of Edwards and the attempted escape of Delaney, when the account of such affairs get noised about outside of the prison, that the newspapers be given a correct statement of the facts and thus stop speculation as to what really has occurred within the walls of the prison. This part of the warden's report was taken under advisement by the board.

The board was much chagrined over the fact that the cutting of Edwards and the attempted escape of Delaney reached the public before the board could investigate the cases, and an investigation as to who gave out the information has been inaugurated, and those guilty will be summarily dealt with, if it can be found who they are.

CHILDREN BIG DEPOSITORS.

One Bank Carries 30,000 Accounts Aggregating $85,000 Collected from the Schools of the County.

School children of Allegheny county have now upwards of $85,000 on deposit in a certain Pittsburgh bank which has made a specialty of this system. The amount becomes the more surprising when it is realized that nearly all of this money has been paid to the bank's collectors in pennies and nickels and that the system has been in practice here but six years.

The deposits come from every section of the county. The outlying boroughs and townships, as well as the city wards, are represented, and all the grades of the public schools are included, from primary to high school.

The system under which this is done is protected by copyright, and for that reason mainly it has remained in charge of the one banking institution. Its effects are two-fold. It inculcates into the children the habit of saving. The $85,000 on deposit is owned by 30,000 children, the average deposit being less than $3, but, whatever the deposit, the child's pride in its bank account and the book which records the growth of the funds is very large. The second result is that the system is gradually cultivating for the bank a large number of future friends. When the children have reached maturity and their bank accounts are those of business men and women the friends won in this manner are sure to be a valuable asset for any institution.

Recently the system has been removed from the Braddock schools. Local conditions which arose made the further continuance of the plan for the time being inadvisable, in the opinion of the bank management. Nevertheless the system had been popular there. In 18 months of operation $1,500 had been deposited by 800 pupils in four schools in the borough.

COMPLIMENTARY TO SINGER.

Three Performances Will Be Given This Season for Pittsburgh Baritone.

John R. Roberts, the well-known Pittsburgh baritone singer, is to be the recipient of three complimentary performances during the coming musical season. The purpose is to secure for the promising singer the finest training that can be had in order that the possibilities of his voice may be developed to the fullest extent.

The first of these affairs will be a concert "Hymn of Praise" by the Oakland Choral club at the Welsh Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving evening. The second will be an eisteddfod by the same organization on Christmas evening, and the third a concert by the Apollo club in April.

Mr. Roberts is well known in local church and musical circles. He has been connected for some time past with the music at the Third Presbyterian church.

OLD SOLDIERS WANT MEMORIAL

They Will Appear in Court This Morning in Behalf of the Project.

FIGURES ON THE COST

There will be a large attendance of old soldiers in the quarter sessions court this morning to hear arguments in favor of the erection of a soldiers' memorial by the county. They are greatly interested in having Judge Evans approve the recommendation of the grand jury.

The old soldiers have been at work for over a year to have the machinery of the county set in motion in the matter of the building of the memorial. The last two grand juries have recommended the second effort to secure the building, and it is now up to the judges of the quarter sessions court to pass upon the finding of the juries.

At a meeting of the veterans held several days ago a committee was selected to appear before the judges this morning and make an argument in favor of the erection of the memorial. In this committee will be representatives from the Loyal Legion, Union Veteran Legion, numerous Grand Army posts and the Spanish war veterans. Petitions have been circulated over the county, and upwards of 30,000 people have signed them.

Members of the committee have been securing data about the cost of the building. It is estimated that the ground could be purchased and the memorial erected at a cost of about $1,000,000. The county commissioners were asked to furnish information as to the probable increase in taxation if it should be decided to pay for it at once instead of issuing bonds.

The valuation of the county is $750,000,000, and by levying an additional half mill for three years the entire cost of the memorial could be paid off. If this plan is followed, the man who pays taxes on $10,000 will contribute about $5; on $5,000, $2 50; on $1,000, 50 cents; on $500, 25 cents, and on $150, 7½ cents. These figures will be presented to the court to show that the burden will not be very heavy when divided among the thousands of taxpayers in the county.

Attention will be called to the fact that in some of the other states suitable memorials have been erected. The committee is said to have secured some data concerning the memorials erected in Columbus, O., and in Boston.

Attractive Autumn Millinery for Women.

Our stock is replete with simple and inexpensive millinery for women who know and appreciate correct style. We are confident we have anticipated all demands and can successfully fill the wants of the most particular, as we have considered all our patrons—young women, matrons and girls. We are showing Toques, Bonnets, Turbans, Round Hats and Picture Types, exquisitely trimmed, at about every price one can imagine. $5.00, $6.50, $7.50, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $30.00 and $40.00.

Our medium creations, quiet and dignified in tone, are attracting unusual attention. These are priced at $5.00 and up to $10.00. Styles and quality are unequaled anywhere for this money, and this season, more than ever before, our customers have been very freely expressing this fact. Of course we are gratified by such unsolicited favorable comment.

See the beautiful stylish hats for young girls we are offering today for $5.00, actual value $6.50 and $7.00.

School Hats, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 up to $3.50 and $5.00.

Interesting Values From the Optical Department.

Our Optical Department is under the supervision of a graduate optician of long experience, so you can trust implicitly in his opinion as to your eyes. If you need glasses he'll tell you so—if you don't need them he won't try to induce you to wear them. Today we quote some extremely low prices on glasses—we'll fit them to your eyes, of course.

$1.00 nickel Eye Glasses, 50c pair.
$1.50 steel Spectacles, 50c pair.
$2.50 ten-year filled Eye Glasses, fitted with best quality lenses, $1.50 pair.

Veils and Veiling.

Whether you want a neat, serviceable veil to protect your face from the boisterous winds of October, or a dressy, stylish affair to wear simply in obedience to Fashion's behests, we are equally well prepared to serve you. Tasteful, beautiful, desirable, such are the qualifications of our Veilings. Items of special interest to many:

Veils—different colors and combinations, 50c and up to $3.00 each.
Automobile Veils, new styles and shapes—shirred, accordion pleated and plain, all colors, $2.00 and $3.50 each.
Tuxedo Veilings—excellent quality—fancy meshes, with and without spots, 15c a yard, 2 yards for 25c.

Correct Autumn Hats for Men.

We are sure we can satisfy any man who steps up into this department. A pretty strong statement, we admit, but not exaggerated in any way. We can please all men because we have every good style. To the man who does not care to pay more than $2.00 for a Felt Hat, we can show derbies and soft hats at this price, whose high quality will surprise him. We guarantee them in every respect.

At $3.00 and $4.00 we have a very complete line of the leading blocks by different makers. This line covers every late style that has come to the front, some of them quietly conservative, and from that to those which approach the extreme of fashion.

John B. Stetson's Hats, $3.50.
Victor Jay's London-made Hats $5.00.
Silk Hats, $5.00, $6.00 and $8.00.
Opera Hats, $6.00 and $7.00.
Caps of every description, including a full line of Automobile Caps.

Boys' Headwear—

The department devoted to Hats and Caps for boys of all ages adjoins that for the men, second floor, East. The line has been very carefully selected, with a view to pleasing everybody.

Hats, Caps and Tams in large variety from 50c up to $5.00.

Women's Bath Robes for Less Prices.

Plain Eider Bath Robes are most practical. Very neat ones with fitted back, full front, sailor collar, cord and tassel at waist—$3.50.

Another style at $3.75. Of ripple elderdown, collar and sleeves appliqued in black and white—finished at waist with cord and tassel—assorted colorings.

Bath Robes of terry cloth, dainty color effects—shirred back, full front, cord and tassel to finish waist, $3.75.

Women's Leather Handbags $1.00 Each.

A special lot of 8, 9 and 10-inch Handbags at this price and worth more money, as you'll agree when you see them. American Walrus—Sea Bear and Sea Lion Stampings — some fitted with card case and purse—braided and strap leather handles.

We have a complete stock of better bags of every description in every desirable leather, handsomely mounted and fitted, $2.00 to $18.00.

At the Soda Fountain.

Stop at the Soda Fountain for a delicious cup of hot Chocolate—a hot Claret Phosphate or hot Orangeade.

More About Men's Underwear.

Can't tell much about the quality of underwear by merely looking at it. Some of the poorest looks the prettiest—before it goes to the laundry—but afterwards!

When you buy underwear here you know it will turn out exactly as we recommend it—goods that have been thoroughly tested and tried. Medium weights for men who make a change from Summer weight to intermediate.

Gray Merino, $1.00 each.
French Balbriggan, $1.00 each.
White Merino, $1.25, $1.75.

Hallowe'en Novelties at the Candy Counter.

Foxy Grandpa and Katzenjammer families—the Dude—Dandy—Policemen — Maidenette—Gardiner—Joey and Governess—all laughable vegetable figures that will prove an unending source of amusement to the young folk.

Pumpkin Head Lanterns at 10c to $1.00 each, according to size.
Bonbonieres in novelty shapes—for favors. In the shape of Footballs, musical instruments, etc.

Candy Specials Today—

Cocoanut Caramels, 20c per box.
Burnt Almonds, 50c per pound.
Peanut Bar, 25c per pound.

Women's French Colored Handkerchiefs, 25c.

They're worth 50c, if you please—imported direct from Paris, and pretty specimens of French needlework they are. The field of the 'kerchief is plain white fine linen, in the corner of each a printed design in colors—such as lavender, blue and pink. Centered in this color is a small embroidered initial in white.

Another line of exceptional good value at 25c each is comprised of embroidered, drawnwork and mitre designs. Some of these are very elaborate—all wrought exquisitely in pure white.

At 12½c each another lot of those splendid Shamrock Initial Handkerchiefs. Some weeks ago we offered a quantity of these handkerchiefs at the price, and the demand proved greater than the supply. We duplicated the order, and now have 2,400 ready today. Worth 25c each.

A declaration has been made by the tuberculosis congress in favor of a health member in the cabinet. No doubt much aid can be rendered those who are endeavoring to check disease by legislation and executive action, but both these helps can be secured without a special pleader in the president's list of advisers. The danger in increasing the specialization of departments is that each chief will exaggerate the importance of his own portfolio, regardless of the needs of the others. As it is, most of the cabinet officers have to deal with health problems, and there is about as much need for a secretary of health as for a secretary of religion.

New York politics are mysterious in significance and the leaders are still puzzling over the summary removal of the civil service board by Mayor McClellan. The board was considered a Tammany institution and the mayor was at first praised for his independence in acting when he heard of the malfeasance in office. But later the knowing ones could see some connection between his creation of a new board and the Murphy-McCarren fight. Whatever the significance of the change, it is well known that a civil service board of any kind is abhorrent to the Democratic administration, which is usually ready to throw every possible obstacle in its path.

Announcement is made in the public prints that a number of submarine torpedo boats have been started from a Massachusetts yard to a destination "west of Chicago," supposed to be Japan. It is far more likely this particular lot of boats is intended for Russia. The mere fact that it is published that they have been built for Japan indicates another destination. Nations at war do not advertise their own contraband, nor do consignors advertise true destination. In brief, this shipment may explain the appearance of Russian auxiliary cruisers along the Pacific coast, since it is not to be expected that cargo of this kind would be sent to sea without armed escort. In any event it may become the duty of United States government officials to inquire into the matter, for strict neutrality implies abstention from the supplying of war machines.

The Wisconsin Republicans do not seem to be willing to accept the decision of the court in favor of the LaFollette ticket. Mr. S. A. Cook, the nominee of the "stalwarts" for governor, will keep his agreement and withdraw, but the defeated faction have persuaded former Gov. Scofield to take his place on the ballot which is to appear as the "national ticket." This intention of making another Republican nomination is for the purpose of catching votes of disgruntled members of the party who will not vote the straight Democratic ticket. Such a course cannot fail to imperil the Roosevelt ticket in spite of the protests of both factions that they are enthusiastic Roosevelt men. Concessions on both sides are necessary for a compromise, but Gov. LaFollette can hardly withdraw, now that he has been renominated, and the court decision in his favor.

While Judge Parker has finally decided not to go before the people, but to confine his campaign activity to suggestions of headquarters' management, Judge Herrick is going to make a stumping tour which will cover as much ground as possible. He says he will do everything possible to meet all demands upon him in the matter of campaigning, even to the extent of speaking several times a day. This will be apt to make the New York campaign a lively one. It is the one state where there appears to be really something doing on the Democratic side, but the excitement appears to be confined to state issues, on which the Democratic managers base their hopes of carrying the state. Even if they should it will be a repetition of the result in 1888, when the Democrats elected their state ticket and the Republicans got the electoral vote. The Odell issue may, however, turn out differently from the opinion which prevails in New York city and impresses itself upon the correspondents. Gov. Odell incurred the anger of corporate interests, but the rural districts will be heard from on election day and they may entertain ideas not now adequately represented in reports on the situation emanating from New York city.

Anticipations of an open conflict in the Massachusetts Republican convention over the question of Canadian reciprocity were completely disappointed. The committee upon resolutions reached an agreement upon that point and the platform was unanimously adopted as presented. The reciprocity plank declares that "further measures should be taken toward negotiating reciprocity treaties with foreign countries, and especially with Canada and Newfoundland." The clause of the national platform is recited which favors such arrangements only when they "can be effected consistently with the principles of protection and without injury to American agriculture, American labor or American industries." These conditions have been extensively construed as precluding any reciprocity arrangements with Canada. This lends special significance to the last clause of the Massachusetts plank, which amends the national platform declaration by adding as an alternative condition, "or when, as President Roosevelt said in his message of 1902, 'the minimum damage done may be disregarded for the sake of the maximum of good accomplished.'" This fairly puts the question of Canadian reciprocity into the political arena, and marks the beginning of a fresh chapter of tariff agitation.

Mr. Carnegie has found a simple way to abolish war. In a letter to the peace congress he says that if Britain, France, Germany and America unite to compel peace "the first offender, if there ever were one, being rigorously dealt with, war would at one fell swoop be banished from the earth." But in practice this might not be so easy as it is in Mr. Carnegie's mind. For instance, how is it to be determined who is the "first offender?" Take the present war; was Russia or Japan the first offender? The scheme in its main features contemplates the formation of another Holy Alliance, but it would be exposed to the same difficulties which the old Holy Alliance encountered when it proposed to deal rigorously with offenders. That alliance was composed of Russia, Austria and Prussia, and its declared intention was to regulate the affairs of the nations upon the principles of Christian charity. It was inclined to make a start with South American countries, then giving great offense by waging war against the authority of Spain. Intimations of this design provoked that assertion of American policy since known as the Monroe doctrine, and ever since then South American countries have been privileged to fight all they pleased. A new Holy Alliance would hardly be any more successful than the old one in dictating national behavior. The less ambitious policy of the peace congress, which consists of promoting the establishment of facilities for the settlement of disputes, seems better calculated to secure practical results.

There It Is No Joke.

There is a great deal of truth in the following epigram culled from a recent speech by Thomas Watson:

"The Democratic party has degenerated into a joke. It has no mission which it dares to state, no gospel which it dares to preach and no leader who dares to fight. It is a joke and will soon be a farce."

But this relates to the situation in this country, and not to the Philippines. There it is not a joke. The Filipinos take seriously what we know to be campaign claptrap.

Hence it is a natural development of the situation that a Filipino newspaper in Manila has published a call for a meeting to be held tomorrow for the purpose of supporting the "American committee for Philippine independence." An editorial article accompanying the announcement declares that the best element in the United States favor the independence of the islands.

It is a fact demonstrated by the captured archives that the Aguinaldo rebellion was based upon the expectation of Democratic success in this country. Speeches and documents issued in this country sounding the cry of imperialism were circulated in the Philippines to spread the revolt. Gen. Lawton declared not long before he met his death that "the continuance of the fighting is chiefly due to reports that are sent out from America and circulated among these ignorant natives by the leaders who know better."

Whatever else may be said about a party that is willing and able to foment such mischief, it is not correct to say that it has degenerated into a joke.

A New Ruling.

The opinion of Attorney General Moody that before a bridge is ordered to be raised by the war department it is necessary to prove it a material obstruction to navigation is not welcomed by the bridge raisers in this section. The act of congress under which the secretary of war is authorized to act in such matters says he may order a bridge raised when it is an "unreasonable obstruction to navigation." The distinction in terms is not important unless it may be construed that one can be applied to theoretical navigation, while the other refers only to materialized commerce.

As the matter affects the Allegheny river bridges, it has not been proven that they are obstructions to navigation "unreasonable," or "material." That they would interfere with an imaginary double-decked packet trade will not be denied, but that class of navigation does not exist on the river. The bridges do not materially interfere with a reasonable use of the stream for commercial navigation.

Moreover, we regard the recent opinion of the attorney general of less import than the fact that no provision is made for the compensation of bridge owners, whose property it is proposed to take under these proceedings. The bridges have been chartered by due process of law and are actual property. The Constitution provides that private property shall not be taken under any circumstances without due compensation. Congress has no power to override that provision. Thus the war department is constrained on the one hand by the fact that there is no unreasonable or material obstruction to navigation and on the other by the fact that no provision has been made to compensate private owners whose property would be virtually taken from them by the proposed orders.

Postoffice Robberies.

Wednesday night the postoffice at Sykesville was robbed of a large amount in stamps. Thursday night the postoffice at Berwyn was robbed of stamps and money. Apparently these two jobs were done by the same gang. There is no telling where the next attack will be made, but these two should warn Western Pennsylvania postmasters that the gang is at work and may be expected anywhere. Special watchfulness may lead to capture, or at least to frustration of plans of the thieves.

These robberies should also arouse city police and United States secret service men to extra vigilance, for the safe crackers have a rendezvous in some center of population. The police should be alert to locate the gang in enjoyment of its plunder, while the secret service operatives ought to be on the lookout to locate the "fence" with which they deal. The principal plunder of the postoffice burglar is postage stamps and there is reason to believe these are disposed of through some large agency in one of the principal cities. It seems strange, indeed, that government agents are unable to locate the conspiracy by which thousands of stolen stamps are used or sold annually. The business is obviously long established, for the postoffices have been suffering periodical raids for many years. The stamps must be put into circulation by some firm of apparent respectability, yet it ought to be possible for the government agents to find it.

These robberies also point to the necessity for a state constabulary. An efficient force of this kind taking the trail at Sykesville on Thursday morning would almost certainly have been close upon the gang at Berwyn on Friday morning. If the direct trail could not be found the officers would be able to obtain clues and descriptions of the men engaged in the nefarious work that would lead to discovery and arrest. Under the present system escape from the limits of a village where a robbery is perpetrated is equivalent to stoppage of pursuit by all save government detectives. Local officers must stick to their beats and the postoffice detectives do not appear to accomplish anything.

The Business Situation.

Each day this week the exchanges at the Pittsburgh clearing house showed an increase over the corresponding day last year. The gain yesterday was more than a million dollars. This is the first time this year that there has been a week of successive gains. Up to last Saturday the daily average decrease in exchanges for 1904 was $1,350,000 as compared with the corresponding period of 1903. The increase may be fairly accepted as significant of actual improvement in general business, but particularly in the iron trade. This improvement began several weeks ago, but it takes some time before it is reflected in bank clearings. Improvement in this respect in Pittsburgh is more important than if it occurred in New York, for instance, because the figures here are not inflated to the same extent by speculative operations.

The growth of confidence in the future was again clearly manifested in the stock market, which for the greater part of the week was active and buoyant. The public is reaching the conclusion that the sustained advance in the stock market, which today represents an average recovery of 20 per cent from the low level of last spring, has something more back of it than professional manipulation, and sentiment is gradually veering around to a quarter where the outlook appears brighter than at any time for more than a year. Orders for material are being placed with more confidence, and with better employment for the masses and increasing spending power, mercantile trade is displaying more activity than at any previous time this year.

A steady decline in the market for grain and cotton has followed the assurance that the damage to crops by frost was less than feared. The government report on cotton indicates the largest yield for years, and the state reports made public during the week estimate the yield of corn at a much higher figure than the estimates made by experts a few weeks ago. Altogether, the agricultural classes have enjoyed another prosperous year, and the present movement of the crops to market is in much larger volume than in former years. Cotton has been going out to foreign consumers at the rate of a million dollars' worth a day, and to a large extent is making up for our decrease in exports of breadstuffs, so that international exchanges are now running in our favor.

One effect of the assurance of good crops and easy money conditions is seen in the placing of orders by railroad and other corporations for equipment. For instance, the Pennsylvania railroad announced the placing of an order for $1,000,000 worth of rolling stock. The business policy of this great corporation in the matter of making expenditures for equipment and improvements is often watched by other interests as a guide for similar action, and this announcement of the placing of orders covering present and prospective requirements will give confidence to smaller corporations and individuals to do likewise. There is no longer room to doubt that general business is making rapid progress toward recovery.

Official estimates put the corn crop at 2,350,000,000 bushels and unofficial authorities rate it at 50,000,000 bushels higher. This is a severe blow to the speculative estimates of less than 2,000,000,000 bushels, but good news for stock feeders.

THE SOCIAL SEASON.

Following are a few items culled from our Venango and Crawford county exchanges. The "social" appears to be a means of indirect taxation:

The fruit social was a success, the proceeds amounting to $20. No other season of the year could put up such a variety of ripe fruits as this.—Nicklin.

The school social, Friday evening, was a success. About $13 was realized. The proceeds go toward papering the school house.—Teeplevile.

The pie social at Levi Bates' was a success. The proceeds, $16, was appropriated for a new bell in our town school house.—Touceraville.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"If a man must not kiss his wife, whose wife may he kiss?" was a question with which Magistrate Connorton had to puzzle his brain this morning. It would require more than the wisdom of Solomon to settle amicably some of the questions put to the police magistrates of New York. This morning there appeared before Magistrate Connorton, Frank Hayes, accused by his stepson, Charles Klein, of disorderly conduct. Hayes declared his "disorderliness" consisted wholly of greeting his wife with affection when he met her at the home of Klein. He bestowed a hug and a kiss, and thereat Klein objected and called a policeman. It was too much for the policeman to settle all by himself, so he gathered in Hayes, and this morning presented the matter in due legal form before the magistrate. It did not long stump the court. A police magistrate is accustomed to listening to the whims of the dear public. That is what he is paid for. Connorton simply adjusted his glasses and carefully looked over the prisoner. He was not a very obstreperous looking chap, rather good to look upon, and the magistrate could see no reason why a wife should object to his caresses.

"There are certain inalienable rights coming to even a stepfather," sagely remarked the court. "Even he cannot be deprived of the privilege of occasionally kissing his wife, and if the stepson objects to the sight, he has the privilege of looking the other way. Mr. Hayes, as long as you confine your osculatory practices to your own wife, I can see no reason to hold you. If she enjoys such evidence of your affection, her son has no right to enter objections. You are discharged."

One must be very circumspect to escape the hands of the police in New York. One would suppose there must have been something behind the kissing episode to require the services of an officer of the law, but it so it did not come out at the hearing. The policeman simply took the word of Klein that his stepfather had been disorderly and called the wagon. An occasional injection of a little of the essence of good sense would do a lot of New York policemen a world of good.

Charity Balks at Whisky.

Lillian Dempsey, a "show girl," proved herself very much of a woman last night when she tried to dispense charity to an aged woman. The latter was soliciting alms on the street, and a few moments later Miss Dempsey proved also that she did not propose to be imposed upon. When asked for money, Miss Dempsey promptly handed out a nickel. "I'm hungry and that is not enough to buy a meal," said the old woman. Promptly the appeal touched the young woman's heart and she escorted the beggar to a restaurant and told her to order whatever she wanted. "Give me a glass of whisky," was the order. "I won't stand for whisky," said Miss Dempsey. "If you are hungry, order something to eat." But it was thirst, not hunger that had the beggar in its grip, and Miss Dempsey promptly marched her protege to a police station and delivered her to the sergeant on a charge of false pretense. Unfortunately, the young woman overslept this morning and did not appear in court to press her charge, so the beggar was released.

The Gentle Art of "Touch."

Begging is a fine art in New York. You are met at every corner with requests for money to secure supper or a bed, even though the police make every endeavor to keep the beggars off the street. There is one chap here who knows human nature to its depths. He is fairly well dressed, and generally looks as though just recovering from a short spree. "I'm dying for a drink of whisky," he tells his chosen victim. "Been on a bat and went broke. I've got to have a drink to steady my nerves so I can go back to work." He usually gets the requisite 15¢ cents, sometimes a quarter. Most men along the Rialto know what it is to get up in the morning with a fuzzy growth of dark brown on the tongue, and they appreciate the fellow's predicament. And he makes this fact his meal ticket.

After the "Newsies'" Quarters.

A new pool room has opened in the vicinity of Herald Square that is making a specialty of gathering in the small change of the newsboys. A bet of a quarter will be accepted, and that is just the chance the average newsy has been looking for. It is pretty hard to get a dollar together all at once when there are so many ways to spend a nickle or dime. The newsboy is a born gambler. He is so far a loser in the great game of life, and he is looking for a chance to get even. This pool room furnishes him the opportunity to take a flyer, and it is being generously patronized. It also caters to bigger bettors, and is on the level, or as nearly so as any pool room, but that does not prevent the boys from going broke about once in every 24 hours. Strangely enough, the police cannot see the place, though it is wide open and everyone else who happens to pass knows what is going on inside.

The Active Mr. Canfield.

District Attorney Jerome can keep Richard Canfield's New York game closed, but if reports are true, the artist-gambler can find other places to expend his surplus energies. After securing a concession in Cuba, he has sailed for Mexico on the same quest. Canfield doesn't need the money, he is probably a millionaire, but once the gambling fever gets into a man's blood it is more active than the tuberculosis germ. He cannot be happy unless the music of the wheel is ringing in his ears.

One of the dreams of the day is that President Roosevelt will appoint Judge Parker to the supreme bench after defeating him in November. The pipe isn't out yet.

Still another of the ousted civil service commissioners threatens to sue Mayor McClellan for slander. Positively, this is growing interesting.

Answers to Correspondents.

The Gazette has received many queries about the attendance at the St. Louis fair. Some of the writers ask us to make an estimate of the total attendance up to the close. The Gazette doesn't guess. The attendance to and including September 30 was 12,695,193; for the week ending October 1, 722,565. We have no means of knowing how many of these admissions were paid and how many free. Readers of The Gazette should read the paper closely every day to get the figures as they are given out at regular intervals. The Gazette positively will not answer queries sent in unsigned, so if your question is not answered you will know that it is because you failed to sign your full name.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

How like the day before the battle of Perryville was yesterday! Clear and bright and about as much warmer as Kentucky averages warmer than Pennsylvania.

The march along the crest of the Salt river and Chaplain hills was delightful, as compared with other marches that the troops had made shortly before.

Buell's army had tramped all the way from Nashville with very little rest, while the Army of the Ohio tramped into Louisville from Lexington in a good deal of a hurry—so much of a hurry, in fact, that it hardly stopped to sleep, much less to eat.

The cause of this hurry was one Kirby Smith, aided and supported by a good-sized army, made up mainly of seasoned troops, while the Yankee hosts that led the way to Louisville were new, so new that some of the regiments had not been fully armed and equipped. This would have been attended to had not Kirby Smith interfered with arrangements made by Gen. Wright to send supplies down to Lexington from Cincinnati.

These green troops were still footsore and more or less weary after this forced march along dusty pikes under a broiling sun and no water to drink, nor even beer, nor Kentucky's famous beverage.

But such was life in the army, and there was no use kicking, for you just had to march or be gobbled up by Smith.

* * * * *

It makes all the difference in the world whether you are following or being followed by the enemy, as was fully realized by these same footsore men when they started out after Bragg and his army.

Bragg had followed Buell up from Nashville, but had been unable to catch him before he connected with the forces at Louisville. Finding that it was useless to give battle there he turned about and struck out for the heart of Kentucky, and Buell promptly took up the chase, hoping to catch him out about Bardstown.

After three days' tramping he was brought to bay, or rather he had concluded to stop and fight, if that was what Buell wanted.

The morning of October 8th opened nice and bright, and the army was cheerful and apparently anxious for a fight, but not too anxious, unless it was that portion of it that had not yet smelled burnt powder hot from the gun.

During the forenoon there was more or less cannonading, which was taken as an indication that our cavalry was harassing Bragg's flanks, and that he would be compelled to stop soon and give battle, or put on more speed and get out of the state in quick time.

But he was for fight, and fight he did, and it is not too much to say that it was one of the nastiest fights of the war, besides being one of those in which green troops were pitted against veterans.

* * * * *

Any sort of a fight is nasty enough and bloody enough, but this one was out of the ordinary, probably because the new troops didn't know how to take care of themselves.

As an instance, the Ninety-eighth Ohio lost exactly as many men killed in that battle as it did in all the others it was in, including Chickamauga, the Atlanta campaign and Sherman's march to the sea.

Men were shot to death in front of great trees which would have stopped either bullets or shells, but they seemed to fear that they might be thought cowardly by taking refuge on the safe side of those natural defenses.

However, those who escaped soon learned to know which was the safer side of a tree.

And then there were a lot of raw ones on the other side who didn't know when they were whipped, so they kept on fighting long after the older and more experienced ones had sought shelter.

It is not an indication of courage or good fighting for men to expose themselves to a long-continued fire. Battles are won by dash and quick action on the part of the aggressors, and not by continued firing. If the enemy does not show signs of breaking at the first dash there isn't much use in the assailants standing in the open to be shot down in their tracks. It is better to seek shelter, pull the scattered ranks together, and try it again.

* * * * *

That battle was fought two score and two years ago, but it does not seem to those who were there to have been half so long ago. For some reason the first battle in which a soldier is actively engaged never appears to grow far away—something like the first circus, which is always the best ever and freshest in memory.

This being the first of the great series of battles which ended with the fall of Atlanta, it will ever remain prominent in history. And then the percentage of fatalities, based on the number of soldiers actually engaged, is larger than that of any other battle in the west, or, perhaps, in the whole army.

The conduct of Gen. Buell was not only highly censurable, but led to a careful investigation which showed that he was unfit, if not incompetent, to command an army. For some cause which has never been satisfactorily set forth, Gen. Crittenden's corps was not brought into action, although the distress of those engaged was plain to be seen. Gen. Dan McCook and other brigade and division commanders, and their men, were so anxious to rush in and turn the tide of battle dead against Bragg that they were more than once on the verge of going without orders.

* * * * *

A searching investigation failed to show good cause for Buell's conduct, but ever since the day of the battle there has been a feeling on the part of soldiers amounting almost to a conviction that it was due to jealousy on the part of Buell toward Alexander McD. McCook, who was the more popular among the men on account of his well-known fighting qualities.

By allowing McCook to fight the whole of Bragg's army alone there was a chance of a defeat which might lead to McCook's retirement.

But it worked the other way.

However, Bragg skedaddled, and skedaddled so fast that McCook, who had his fighting clothes on, could not even step on the tail of his coat. And as soon as McCook's men learned the true state of affairs they declare themselves willing to make any sort of a campaign to get another crack at Bragg, and some of them wouldn't have hesitated to take a crack at Buell.

The most charitable view of the case that can be taken is that Buell got mixed, or lost his head for a time, so that he really didn't know that McCook was bearing the brunt of the attack unaided.

Being a Kentuckian, it was thought by some that Buell wanted Bragg to escape with his army. This view, however, is not well sustained.

Having superseded Gen. W. T. Sherman in command of the Army of the Ohio, Buell proved a great failure, nothing more.

Mr. Schurz's Influence.

How much remains of Mr. Schurz's former influence is a question in political circles not always discussed with good temper. He has passed over from one party to the other so often as practically to have become a veteran in both. He began a Republican, but it would be risky to say that he will end a Democrat. He is a Democrat now, but if death spares him and all will hope it may—he is likely as not to turn up a Republican again in 1908.—Washington Star.

Political Drift

* * *

James Jeffrey Roche, editor of the Boston Pilot, the well-known Irish-American author and poet, has given out the following interview:

"The Boston Pilot has been a Democratic paper from its foundation, in 1836, up to the present year. It now supports President Roosevelt because he represents the type of Democracy which Irish-Americans admire, and because they cannot sympathize with the principles enunciated in the St. Louis platform, viz., free trade, curtailment of the army and navy, hauling down the flag, retrenchment of the pensions to disabled veterans and retreat from the position taken by the present administration in Panama and our oriental possessions.

"On the question of free trade the Pilot has followed for 34 years the policy of John Boyle O'Reilly, which was always the American one of protection to home industries. It was never hard to convince any man who has experience, both of the British and of the American systems, that he had left the land of the former to better his condition in that of the latter. The logic of the Cobden club falls down when it is confronted with that of the dinner table.

"Apart from that, Irishmen and men of Irish blood look askance at the 'gift-bearing Greek.' Hence they do not take kindly to the advice of America's newly-discovered friends, and when a hand is extended across the sea, they suspect what the other hand contains, and approve of the 'big stick' in our own—not necessarily for offensive purposes, but because a hand with a stick in it gives a certain moral strength to its owner. So they would not weaken it by dismantling the navy and disbanding the army. They are not aware that their coreligionists in the Philippines have been oppressed by the American government. The Catholics in the islands are not aware of it. The pope is not aware of it. So they conclude that what is good enough for their government and good enough for the church is good enough for them. The reasoning seems reasonable. There is another subject on which their minds are fully made up. John Boyle O'Reilly set the noble example of justice and fair play for the negro. Irish-Americans revere him for that, as for his many other knightly qualities. As he sang of his dead countryman, Burke, so it might be said of himself:

"'Races or sects were to him a profanity—
Hindoo and Negro and Kelt were one;
Large as mankind was his splendid humanity,
Large in its record the work he has done.'

"He was the friend of Wendell Phillips, and Phillips has told us the story of another Irishman revered by his countrymen, Daniel O'Connell; how when the liberator was straining every nerve for the freedom of his countrymen he received a large sum of money from a southern state and promptly sent it back to the donors. He thanked them for their generosity, but said that 'he loved liberty too well to buy it for his country with money wrung from the toil of slaves.' Think of what Daniel O'Connell or Wendell Phillips or John Boyle O'Reilly would say to the Lilliputian aristocrats who are shocked because the president of the United States acted as a gentleman toward the black gentleman who was his guest at luncheon at the White House! I am glad that Irish-Americans are called to give their judgment on such an issue as that. 'Are Irish-Americans going to vote solidly for Mr. Roosevelt?' you ask. 'Not quite. They have been advised so long that they should not vote solidly for any party that quite a few—not very many—will probably support Judge Parker.'"

Between the acts of a melodrama at the Bijou theater in Maryland the other night Yiddish spellbinders told some 2,500 Jews that the only man in the world to vote for this coming fall is Congressman Frank C. Wachter (Republican), and the 2,500 people, guests of the congressman at the play, applauded this sentiment even more vociferously than they did the hero when he saved the heroine from a tragic death. It was a new kind of campaigning in East Baltimore. Mr. Wachter has taken a two months' lease of the theater as a place to hold his political meetings and sublet it for certain nights to a Yiddish stock company. One of the terms of the contract was that once a week the company should give a free performance, tickets to which are to be distributed by Congressman Wachter.

Congressman Wachter came in during the first act and the audience rose and howled. During the third intermission Mr. Slenkow took the stage and introduced Mr. Wachter, who got another ovation as he went up on the platform. He made a speech, partly in English and partly in German, and mixed in a few Yiddish phrases.

These official statements were issued by Messrs. Cook and Scofield defining their position in the Wisconsin tangle:

After a conference today Mr. Cook issued a statement defining his position. He reviews his loyalty to the Republican party for 35 years, talks of conditions that led up to the two conventions and the subsequent proceedings in the supreme court, and then speaks of his letter of three weeks ago, stating he would withdraw if he failed to get the decision.

Mr. Scofield, who is to succeed Mr. Cook as the Republican opponent of Gov. LaFollette, gives out the following prepared interview:

"I haven't much to say. The situation explains itself. Mr. Cook has withdrawn from the head of the Republican ticket, and as soon as the proper formalities have been observed I shall take his place. I am not an office-seeker, but I am proud of the honor conferred upon me, and shall make an active and energetic canvass until the day of election. I am confident that I shall be elected. I have faith in the judgment and the desire for fair play of the Republicans of Wisconsin, and am certain that they will rebuke the high-handed methods by which Mr. LaFollette attempted to steal the party convention. I represent in this contest the Republican party of the state, and my nomination comes through the regular party channels.

"The regular Republicans, whose candidate I am, are unanimous and enthusiastic in their support of the national Republican ticket, and will see to it that President Roosevelt receives in this state the hearty support to which his splendid record entitles him."

The speech of Congressman J. Thomas Heflin at Tuskegee is the topic of much discussion in Alabama politics. The speech was delivered the first part of the week and was supposed to have been an answer to the charges made against him by his Republican opponent, Capt. B. W. Walker. The speaker devoted much of his remarks to Booker Washington. These assaults, although almost within hearing of the Tuskegee institute, were received with applause and cheers. In speaking of the time President Roosevelt had Booker Washington at luncheon at the White House, Mr. Heflin said: "There they sat, Roosevelt and Booker, and if some Czolgosz, or one of his kind, had thrown a bomb under the table, no great harm would have been done the country." Mr. Heflin said that Booker Washington was helping Capt. Walker in his race. He said: "If Booker interferes in this thing there is a way of stopping him. We have a way of influencing negroes down here when it becomes necessary."

Senator McComas of Maryland recently called at the White House to talk to the President about political conditions in Maryland and elsewhere. "We are exceedingly hopeful," said the Maryland senator. "The signs are most encouraging in my state. Here in Washington you always hear that Maryland is Democratic. This is true in Republican years as well as in Democratic years, but it will not do to accept that view too often. We are feeling more hopeful each day, and the feeling is shared generally by Republicans in the state."

\+ \+ \+ \+

Senator Foraker also called on the president to pay his respects. Senator Foraker has been making speeches in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. In all these states he has seen nothing but the most rosy outlook for the Republican national ticket. When asked about Nebraska, he said: "The Republican electoral ticket will carry the state by a large majority. As to the fight of the Democrats and fusion forces for the legislature, I do not know. Bryan is making a hard fight to secure a legislature that will send him to the senate."

THIS IS THE LAST DAY TO PAY TAXES

Collector Mattern Has Arranged to Keep His Office Open Until 4 O'Clock.

VITCHESTAIN SEES FORD

This is the last day for paying taxes in order to secure a vote at the November election. Delinquent Tax Collector Robert Mattern announces that he will keep his office open until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

For the last month there has been a steady stream of callers at the tax office. The political organizations are not paying taxes this year, and the individual has to see that he is equipped to cast his ballot. Frank Bigham, the chief clerk in the office, says that a great many people have paid their taxes. It is his experience that numerous voters settle with the tax collector once every four years, and it is this class that is coming to the office this fall. He says that the number of receipts issued will doubtless equal those written for either the campaigns of 1896 or 1900.

J. H. Vitchestain, promoter of the club of the young men of the payroll, yesterday hunted up Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee, to tell him what he was doing. Mr. Ford was not placed in a position where it was necessary to give his opinion of the movement.

"Vitchestain intimated that some meetings would be held and requests might be made for speakers," said the chairman. "As he made no formal request there was no necessity for me to express myself on the subject. It will be time enough when an opinion is sought."

The Democrats are trying to find some one to make a speech for them, so that there can be a semblance of a campaign opening. The committee on meetings and speakers discussed the matter yesterday, and it was decided to appeal to Col. J. M. Guffey. The colonel will go to New York Monday and endeavor to get the national committee to send orators here. It is probable that no attempt will be made to secure W. Bourke Cockran after his turndown in Philadelphia. There is a general desire on the part of the rank and file of the party that the committee stick to home talent. It would be gratifying to many of the "unterrified" if William J. Brennen would repeat the speech he delivered before the Women's Parker Theatrical club in the Duquesne theater a few days ago. It made a hit with the girls.

Duquesne Heights Meeting.

J. McF. Carpenter, E. E. Cotton and Joseph C. Wasson will address a Republican mass meeting in the Thirty-fifth ward, in Zimmerman's hall, Grandview avenue, this evening.

Former District Attorney John C. Haymaker has accepted an invitation to speak at the Republican mass meeting in Carnegie Music hall, Allegheny, Saturday evening, October 15. Congressman Edward B. Vreeland of New York, Maj. Alexander McDowell, Hon. W. H. Graham and Mr. Haymaker will supply the eloquence at this meeting. Music will be furnished by the Excelsior quartet and the Knights of Pythias cornet band. Many Republican clubs are arranging to turn out. The Young Men's Republican Tariff club has been invited to escort the speakers from Pittsburgh to Carnegie Music hall. Other clubs will also be in line from Pittsburgh to the North Side.

George B. Kemp of Washington, D. C., who takes great pride in the fact that in personal appearance he resembles President Roosevelt, was a caller at Republican county headquarters yesterday. He has traveled over much of the country, and told Secretary Muehlbronner that it is surprising that nearly every man he has talked with has declared his intention of voting for Roosevelt.

George J. Churchill delivered an address to the members of the Dr. A. J. Barchfeld Marching club of McKees Rocks last night.

Big Rally in Carnegie.

A Republican mass meeting is to be held in Carnegie in the Music hall on Thursday evening, October 20, at which addresses will be delivered by Frank B. McLain of Lancaster, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, William M. Benham and Matthew Lowry. Other speakers were yesterday assigned to meetings as follows:

Tuesday evening, October 18—Wickersham public school hall, South Thirtieth and Carson streets, Twenty-fourth ward, William M. Benham, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld and Capt. John A. Reed; Friday evening, October 21, Bank hall, Coraopolis, James Francis Burke, Joseph A. Langfitt and John W. Moreland; Friday evening, October 21, East McKeesport schoolhouse, Joseph R. McQuaide, W. H. Coleman and H. H. Negley; Thursday evening, October 27, Avalon borough hall, Avalon, A. C. Robertson, William M. Benham, Maj. A. B. Hay and H. L. Riley; Thursday evening, November 3, Sixth ward school, Allegheny, William M. Benham, Charles O'Brien and R. H. Jackson.

Another Republican mass meeting is to be held in the Twenty-first ward next Thursday evening. This will be in Orpheus hall, Luna and Everett streets. John S. Weiler, William A. Blakeley and John F. Cox will be the speakers.

SICK PEOPLE RESCUED FROM BURNING HOUSE

Fire in the building at 1612 Fifth avenue caused considerable excitement in that vicinity yesterday morning, as the firemen, assisted by neighbors, were forced to carry two sick people from the house. John Schiller, aged 69, and his wife occupy the second story of the building and both are ill. Schiller was carried down a ladder and his wife down the stairs. The blaze started in the first floor, which is occupied by George F. Bender, a wall paper dealer. The damage is about $500. The traction cars in Fifth avenue were tied up for 20 minutes as a result of the fire.

To Arrange Window Glass Scale.

The window glass manufacturers and the wage committee of local assembly 300, K. of L., will hold a conference today at the Hotel Henry to consider a scale for the next fire. The wage committee will present a proposition which it thinks will be satisfactory to the manufacturers.

FULL FIGHTING STRENGTH OF RUSSIA AND JAPAN

First Detailed Statement of the Composition, Numbers and Resources of Both Belligerents.

It is true that the fighting strength of a nation as it appears on paper may prove to be entirely erroneous when it comes to the test of actual warfare. Many other factors, such as personnel, mobility, general efficiency, financial resources, etc., must be taken into consideration, but the actual numerical strength of the forces each belligerent is able to put in the field is a matter of great interest and value in determining the probable outcome of a conflict.

Authoritative statistics showing the composition of the Russian and Japanese armies and the number of men available for each branch of the service have been carefully compiled and will be published next Sunday for the first time in the editorial section of The Sunday Gazette.

The whole civilized world is intensely interested and deeply concerned in the outcome of the sanguinary war now in progress in the far east, and the facts to be presented by The Gazette next Sunday will be of more than ordinary interest.

MASSACHUSETTS TICKET NAMED

Republicans Agree Upon State Officers, With But One Contest.

MOODY REVIEWS POLITICS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Massachusetts Republicans today nominated the following ticket: Governor, John L. Bates, Boston; lieutenant governor, Curtis Guild, Jr., Boston; secretary of state, William M. Olin, Boston; auditor, Henry E. Turner, Malden; attorney general, Herbert Parker, Lancaster; treasurer, A. B. Chapin, Holyoke; electors-at-large, William W. Crapo, New Bedford, and Edwin U. Curtis, Boston.

With the assembling of the Republican state convention today to nominate a state ticket and presidential electors, the situation so far as the only contest that for nomination as state treasurer, was concerned, was less involved than last night. The situation was clarified in the late hours of the night by the withdrawal of Elisha S. Brewster of Springfield, in favor of Mayor Chapin of Holyoke. It was stated also that before the convention would be called to order Elisha T. Harvell of Rockland would withdraw, like Mr. Brewster, in favor of Mayor Chapin. Thus the contest was narrowed down to John J. Whipple of Brockton and Mayor Chapin. The latter was nominated by a vote of 821 to 698.

Permanent organization was speedily effected and Attorney General William H. Moody was presented as the permanent chairman. Mr. Moody opened his address with an eloquent tribute to the late Postmaster General Payne. His speech was a long review of the Republican administration, commencing with the election of President McKinley, in 1896, which he characterized as the beginning of an epoch that is not yet ended. He predicted victory in the coming election, basing his claim therefor upon the achievements of Republican national administrations during that period.

The attorney general, referring to the question of reciprocity with Canada, said the question should be approached from a different point than reciprocity with another nation except Cuba.

The platform as adopted expresses the belief that still further measures should be taken toward negotiating reciprocity treaties with foreign countries, "and especially with Canada and Newfoundland."

REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION.

Great Meeting Marked the Opening of the Campaign in Jefferson County.

REYNOLDSVILLE, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The largest political meeting ever held at Reynoldsville today marked the opening of the Republican campaign in Jefferson county. Marching clubs from Punxsutawney, Dubois, Brookville and Falls Creek were present, besides thousands of visitors. An ox roast was held at Mammoth park and this evening a monster parade took place. Practically every horse for 10 miles around had been engaged.

Prominent politicians present included Gen. Thomas Stewart, Col. Ned A. Flood of Meadville, Congressman W. O. Smith, State Senator John S. Fisher, S. Taylor North and others. A big rally was held in Centennial hall tonight.

HAVE RETAINED GOEHRING.

He Will Assist in the Investigation of Allegheny Graft Charges.

Some impetus was given to the investigation of the Allegheny graft syndicate yesterday when Attorney Harry L. Goehring was retained by District Attorney Robert E. Stewart to assist in laying bare the conditions existing on the North Side. For weeks Mr. Goehring has been in possession of information that is regarded as vital in pursuing the charges. The source of this information was closed to all others but Mr. Goehring, and his consent to take a hand in the affair has given hope of a speedy termination of the investigation.

Maj. Stewart had a talk yesterday with Attorneys Goehring, Marron and Haymaker, and it is said a plan of action was outlined. No arrests were made yesterday, and it is not likely anything of this kind will be done before the first of next week.

Mr. Marron will be engaged all this morning in the Tschume hearing before Judges Collier and Macfarlane. Fred Tschume, the alleged "official bottler" of Allegheny, has been ordered to bring his books into court. The morning will be devoted to the arguments of the attorneys, and a decision in the case is expected about the middle of next week.

MONEY QUESTION IS LIVE ISSUE

So Declares Congressman Hill Before the Commercial Travelers' League.

DANGER LIES IN CONGRESS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Congressman E. J. Hill of Connecticut was the principal speaker at today's noonday meeting of the Commercial Travelers' league.

Miss Helen Arthur, a practising attorney of New York city, launched her maiden effort at political campaigning today at the noonday meeting. "I am speaking," she began, "in the person of a citizen who is prevented from registering because of circumstances over which I have no control." This prelude brought a roar of laughter which lasted some time.

Mr. Hill said in part:

Parker's telegram to the St. Louis convention did not contain one word as to his own belief as to a great question on which two presidential elections had been fought, not the slightest expression of opinion on the merits of the case, but simply an acknowledgment and acceptance of an existing condition. No man knew until September 26, from any public statement which had been made by any one, whether the Democratic candidate for the presidency really believed that the single gold standard or the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, for which he twice voted, would be the best policy for the country in the future.

If Alton B. Parker is an honest believer in the gold standard how pitiable his record compared with that of Grover Cleveland, Palmer and Buckner, and the thousands of their gold Democratic associates who had the courage of their convictions and stood up to be counted at the crucial time, when he was voting for Bryan and 16 to 1.

A vote for Democratic congressmen means a vote for fiat money and more silver in the Fifty-ninth congress, as 16 more Democratic representatives from the northern states will give to the solid south the control of the next house of representatives and an overwhelming majority in the party caucus. No man can even doubt that such a caucus so controlled, will again bring to the front the financial policies in which they honestly believe, and which John Sharp Williams and William J. Bryan admit have never been abandoned as unsound and ruinous to the commercial honor and financial integrity of this nation.

A vote for Republican congressmen not only means a vote for sound money in the Fifty-ninth congress, but an emphatic call to duty now, and the fulfillment of the platform pledges in the closing session of the present congress, for the money question is an issue in this campaign, and will be until it is settled in accord with the principles of sound finance.

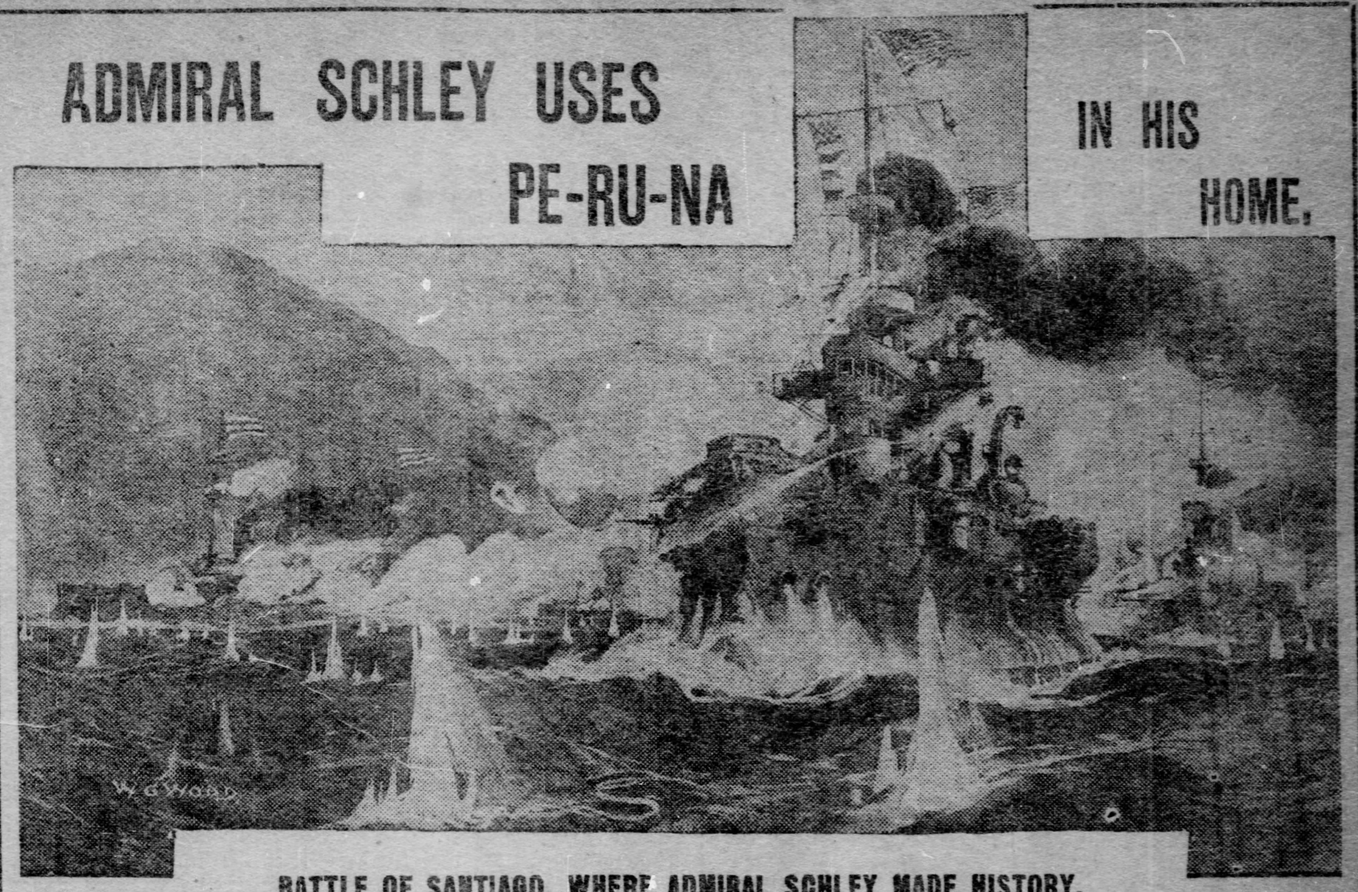
ADMIRAL SCHLEY USES PE-RU-NA IN HIS HOME.



BATTLE OF SANTIAGO, WHERE ADMIRAL SCHLEY MADE HISTORY.

ONE of the greatest naval battles in the world was the Fight Off Santiago. Never since the dispersion of the Spanish Armada has there been a more epoch-making victory in the onward march of civilization than in the notable event of July 3, 1898, in which the great hero, Admiral Schley, took a leading part.

A Historic Naval Battle

No patriotic citizen of the United States can fail to render him the homage due, and to accord him the glory so well deserved.

It was a great naval battle. Without a moment's warning it began. Quick decision, undaunted courage, excellent discipline, resolute self-confidence—these combined in Admiral Schley to produce that dash and daring so characteristic of the American soldier.

A man must think quickly in these days. There is no time for slow action. New enterprises arise in an hour. Old ones pass away in a moment.

A multitude of great themes clamor for notice. A man must take side for or against by intuition, rather than logical deduction.

One day this fighting admiral, Schley, happened to be in company with others who were talking on various topics of popular interest. The subject of Peruna was raised—its popularity as a catarrh remedy, its national importance, its extensive use.

Admiral's Opinion on Pe-ru-na

One asked his opinion upon the subject. Without a moment's hesitation, he said: "I can cheerfully say that Mrs. Schley has taken Peruna and I believe with good effect." Such was the testimony of Admiral Schley.

Like the Battle of Santigo, the thought was sprung upon him without any warning, and he disposed of it with the same vim and decision as he did with the Spanish fleet led by the ill-fated Viscaya.

His words concerning Peruna have gone out into the world to be repeated by a thousand tongues, because he had said them.

Like the news of his victory over Cervera, his words concerning Peruna will be caught up by the multitudes and passed from mouth to mouth, across oceans and continents.

Admiral's Words Carry Weight

Except for an inborn manly independence, in a country of free speech, these words never would have been uttered by an officer occupying such a notable position as that of Admiral Schley.

Except for a world-wide notoriety and popularity, such as Peruna enjoys, no remedy could ever have received such outspoken public indorsement by such a man.

His signed statement appears as follows:

Washington, D. C.

Peruna Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen:—"I can cheerfully state that Mrs. Schley has taken Peruna and I believe with good effect."

BELGIUM'S KING WAS ASSAILED

The Peace Congress Delegates Charge Him With Atrocities in Kongo Free State.

IS DEFENDED BY BRITISHER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—King Leopold of Belgium was assailed for his policy as sovereign of the Kongo Free State at a public meeting held this afternoon in connection with the sessions of the international peace congress.

The attack on King Leopold was made by E. T. Morel of England, who represented the Kongo Reform association. Mr. Morel charged the king as being personally responsible for cruelties practiced on the natives of the Kongo Free State in the terrific endeavors of monopolistic commercial organizations to obtain from the country all the ivory and rubber possible.

The king was defended by George Herbert Head of Cambridge, England, who said King Leopold had done all possible to stop the cruelties practiced. The government policy in the Kongo was bitterly denounced by the Rev. W. M. Morrison, for seven years a missionary in the Kongo.

The congress accepted a report of the committee on propaganda, recommending that the congress in 1905 be held at Lucerne, Switzerland.

One of the first things which the congress did today was to adopt resolutions recommending to all nations to enter into a treaty insuring, in case of dispute between countries, that the difference would be submitted for settlement to a union of all the powers.

A dinner was given tonight at which the foreign delegates were the guests. Speeches were made by Bishop Percival of England, the Baroness von Suttner, Booker T. Washington and others.

HOPE OF THE WORLD.

English-Speaking Peoples Are Irresistible for Universal Peace, Declares Archbishop of Canterbury.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—A reception was given the archbishop of Canterbury at Faneuil hall this afternoon. President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard college and Richard Olney spoke. The archbishop said in part:

"Now the English-speaking world should be like one personality and try to do what it can for the rest of the world. The two great nations have become identified with liberty and freedom under wise control, wrought out in a way that no other race of men has known. English-speaking people are absolutely irresistible for world peace. Our hope is for the world's absolute freedom."

CHILL FROM LANDSDOWNE.

British Prime Minister Considers Time Inopportune to Intervene in the Far East.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Replying to a letter from the International Arbitration and Peace association suggesting that the time is at hand when his majesty's ministers, in concert with other powers, can, with good hope of success, appeal to the governments of Russia and Japan to suspend the conflict in the far east, Foreign Minister Lansdowne writes as follows:

"Neither of the belligerents having expressed any desire for mediation on the part of other powers, his majesty's government does not consider that it could with advantage take such action as is suggested by your committee."

NAILED AMERICAN FLAG ON REFUGEE'S DOOR

Thus Captain of British Steamer Saved Man Pursued by the Mexican Authorities.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Oct. 7.—Pursued by the Mexican authorities, after being released from the Ensenada jail on bail, Capt. Manha of the schooner May took refuge on the British steamer St. Denis, where the captain locked him in and nailed the American flag on the door. The attempt to retake him was abandoned.

Manha arrived here on the St. Denis today. He was arrested September 15 and thrown into jail on the charge of poaching guano from Mexican territory. His wife paid a forfeit and he was released, then the jail authorities demanded money of Manha for alleged services during his incarceration. He refused and was pursued to the steamer.

MOST HANDSOME MAN IN FIREMEN'S PARADE

Greensburg Laddie Wins Prize, While Butler Citizen Is Smallest Among the Marchers.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ERIE, Oct. 7.—The silver anniversary convention of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania adjourned today. In the hose race, 250 yards, the world's record of 32 2-5 seconds was broken by the Coleman hose company of Union City, which won the first prize, $400, in 32 seconds flat, and also won the hub-and-hub race. In the prize drill Renova was first and Union City second.

The grand parade prizes were decided as follows: Darktown fire brigade first, $150; finest looking, Norristown hose company No. 3, largest number in line, Taylor hose company, Meadville, $50; finest looking equipment, Meadville fire department, $50; heaviest man in line, O. E. Beebe, North Clarendon; tallest man, L. H. Boyle, Meadville; most homely man, George J. Meyers, Corry; most handsome, James Gilligan, Greensburg; smallest man, Ike Scanlon, Butler.

In the band contest the first prize, $200, went to the Sixteenth Regiment band, Butler; second, $100, to Northwestern band, Meadville, and third, $50, to the Cambridge Springs band.

ATTORNEY IN CONTEMPT.

Practiced in Court Without First Being Admitted to the Allegheny County Bar.

Edward Carpel, recently from Philadelphia and carrying letters of introduction from Ex-Judge W. W. Porter of the superior court and Judge J. A. Aschermann, was yesterday told by Judge J. A. Evans in criminal court that he was in contempt of court for attempting to practice when not a member of the Allegheny county bar.

Carpel is an attorney and says he intends applying for admission in the December examinations. Yesterday he took a seat at the counsel table and undertook to examine a witness, when he was called before the bench and informed he was in contempt. His explanation was that as an attorney in good standing in the supreme, superior and Philadelphia courts he thought he had the right to practice until formally admitted.

The court informed him that he should have known he could not practice without being admitted. The court pronounced the attorney in contempt and then dismissed the matter for the present.

U. S. OFFICERS ARREST MT. PLEASANT MAN

GREENSBURG, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Three men were brought to jail this morning by Constable John Locke of Mt. Pleasant. He said the men were taken in custody by United States deputy marshals from Pittsburgh. Counterfeit coins have been placed in circulation in all the counties touched by the Laurel Hill range. It is understood the prisoners will be taken to Pittsburgh. They deny connection with Harvey Kelser, arrested in Somerset county September 26.

WILL DEDICATE AND CELEBRATE

Churches Will Be Consecrated and a Centennial Observed Tomorrow.

ABSTAINERS' MASS MEETING

Dedicatory services in connection with the opening of the new First Baptist church, Bellevue, will be held tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening. A special musical program has been prepared for each service. In the morning the Rev. J. A. Maxwell of McKeesport will preach the dedicatory sermon, Deacon W. E. Schaffnit will tell the church history and the Rev. Dr. J. S. Hutson will make an address. In the afternoon the pastor, the Rev. F. T. Kohler, and the Rev. W. E. Pritchard will make addresses, and neighboring pastors will deliver five-minute talks. In the evening the Rev. Dr. S. F. Woodburn of Allegheny will preach. The church was established as a mission of the Beth-Eden and Sandusky street churches of Allegheny in 1893. The new church, which stands on Meade avenue, has been erected at a cost of $10,000. The Rev. Francis U. Kohler has been pastor during the last two years.

Historic Beulah church, on the Northern pike, near Turtle Creek, will celebrate the centennial anniversary of the coming of its first resident pastor, the Rev. James Graham, who served them 40 years, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The church is 120 years old and has been the promoter of many noted local Presbyterian churches. A regular communion service and the regular Sunday sermon will be preached tomorrow morning, and the congregation will bring their luncheons and remain for the afternoon celebration. A sketch of the life of former Pastor Graham will be read, and also one of his sermons from the original manuscript. The life of the Rev. W. P. Miller, another noted former pastor, will also be read. Many visiting clergymen will make short addresses.

THE REV. FRANCIS U. KOHLER,
Pastor of Bellevue Baptist Congregation, Which Dedicates Its New Church Tomorrow.

St. John's German Lutheran church, North avenue and Elizabeth streets, Millvale, will be dedicated tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. At 10:30 a. m. services will be held for the last time in the modest structure in Frederick avenue which has sheltered the congregation during the past 27 years. In the afternoon the Rev. Ernest Broecker of the Smithfield street church will deliver the dedicatory sermon. In the evening the Rev. John Horst of Allegheny will preach. The Rev. Ernest Totske is pastor of the congregation. The new church was bought from the Millvale Methodist congregation and remodeled at a cost of $10,500.

The Priests' Total Abstinence society and Diocesan union of the Catholic Total Abstinence union, under direction of the Rev. Father John G. Beane, will celebrate the birthday of Father Mathew, the great temperance leader, with a mass meeting in Grand Opera house tomorrow night. The Rev. Father M. A. Lambing will be chairman, and among the speakers will be Coadjutor Bishop Canevin and J. Washington Logue, a Philadelphia attorney.

Many Methodist Episcopal clergymen are to deliver sermons in the nature of a farewell tomorrow. The annual conference will be held next week, when the bishop of the district will announce the changes for the year, which take effect at once. Among those who expect to be changed are the Rev. W. W. Hall of Arch Street church, Allegheny, who expects to be called to the Butler Street church; the Rev. N. L. Brown of Centenary church, who is to go to Arch Street church; the Rev. R. I. McKee, who goes to Globe, Ariz., and the Rev. A. D. Mitik of Emory church. The Rev. Dr. T. J. Leak of the Oakland church is considering a call to Bellevue church.

The Rev. Dr. David Gregg, president of the Western Theological seminary, will preach in the pulpit of the Third Presbyterian church, South Negley and Fifth avenues, tomorrow morning.

Allegheny county members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will tender a reception to George A. King of London, vice president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of England, in the parish house of St. Peter's church, Fifth and Craft avenues, this evening. The recent national convention in Philadelphia will be discussed as well.

PERSONALS

The seventh annual banquet of the Western Pennsylvania agency of the Provident Savings Life was was held last night at the Hotel Henry. About 75 were present. Charles W. Scovel, manager of this district, was toastmaster. The respondents were Henry Moir, actuary of the company; Eugene L. Fish, medical examiner; Col. John W. Vrooman, superintendent of agents; Charles P. Whitney, manager of the Syracuse (N. Y.) agents, and James C. Bergstresser, editor of the Insurance World.

Gen. James S. Crox and President J. A. Stewart of the New York League of Republican clubs passed through the city last night on their way home from the annual convention of the League of Republican clubs in Indianapolis. Gen. Crox said: "New York will give Roosevelt between 75,000 and 100,000 majority. The state ticket, while it will go Republican, will not equal that of the national ticket, due to the antagonism to Higgins. However, I think Higgins will be the next governor."

S. E. Irwin, formerly chief clerk to B. W. Duer, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, left last night for Baltimore.

Albert C. Stephany, coroner of Atlantic City and brother of the late Recorder Robert E. Stephany of that city, was in Pittsburgh yesterday en route to the St. Louis fair. Mr. Stephany is concluding the last of his three-year term as coroner, and when asked the political aspect of his city, declared there were not enough Democrats in Atlantic City to hold an inquest over.

H. W. Murray, representing a Lynn (Mass.) shoe house, said last night when seen at the Henry, that tan shoes will be worn extensively next season, and from now on they will always be in style in summer. When tan shoes were first put on the market the large buyers thought the style would be of short duration, and refused to buy them.

F. A. Miller of Philadelphia said at the Seventh Avenue last evening that less soves have been sold the past six months than for any six months in the past five years.

FINDS IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE BANKS

Impressive Statistics Presented to Pennsylvania Bankers by William S. Power.

W. H. PECK ELECTED PRESIDENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 7.—Discussion of questions of finance and banking by men of renown in the financial world held the close attention of the members of Pennsylvania Bankers' association at its concluding sessions today. William S. Power of Pittsburgh took for his subject "Bank Advertising." He said in part:

But does advertising pay? Can we prove it? As a matter of fact it is one of the easiest of advertising problems to solve. Banks and trust companies are compelled by law to issue statements showing their actual standing from time to time. These statements tell the whole story and tell it truly.

Take our own city of Pittsburgh, for instance. More money is expended in legitimate bank and trust company advertising in Pittsburgh than in any other city in the country. About half of them are known the country over because of their liberal advertising. The other half do not believe in advertising. I have gone back over the statements of the last five years comparing the growth of the banks that have advertised continuously with that of the banks that have advertised only now and then—or not at all—and this is what I find:

During the five years the banks that have advertised continuously have increased 58 per cent in assets and 85 per cent in deposits. The banks that have not advertised have increased 27 per cent in assets and 11 per cent in deposits.

But come down to the last year, the year that has tried men's souls, and here is the story the year has told:

In assets the advertising banks have gained 21 per cent; the non-advertisers have lost 5 per cent. In capital the advertisers have gained 15 per cent; the non-advertisers have lost 11 per cent.

In surplus the advertisers have gained 16 per cent; the non-advertisers have gained 10 per cent. In deposits the advertisers have gained 22 per cent; the non-advertisers have lost 7 per cent.

The following officers were elected:

President, W. H. Peck of the Third National bank, Scranton; vice president, John R. Reading of the Susquehanna Trust and Safe Deposit Company, Williamsport; treasurer, E. E. Lindemuth, Clearfield; delegates to the National Association of Bankers, Charles S. Caldwell, cashier of the Corn Exchange bank, Philadelphia; John H. Heartzler, Reading; R. E. James, Easton; H. S. Zimmerman, Pittsburgh, and Glenn C. Hare, Erie.

Eight more delegates are to be elected. Their selection will be left to the several groups of bankers in different parts of the state. Selection of the place of next year's convention was left to the executive committee.

WILL STOP TROLLEYS.

Mayor Harrison Takes Drastic Action Against Belligerent Union Traction Company of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Mayor Harrison today served notice on the Chicago Union Traction Company to cease operating street cars into Adams, Desplaines and Harrison streets, Western avenue and Twelfth street. The action is taken in view of efforts of the traction company to prevent a settlement of franchise disputes between the South Side surface lines and the city. The purpose of the mayor is to clear the way for a municipal street railway.

At midnight Sunday the police will stop operation of cars on the streets named unless restrained by the courts in the meantime.

ACCUSED OF ROBBERY.

Woman Confesses to Membership in Gang Which Has Done Much Thieving.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. S. K. Jacobs, wife of the former station agent at Worthington and related to some of the best known people in the county, was arrested Tuesday, charged with being implicated in the robbery of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station at Worthington. In jail today she confessed to Deputy Sheriff Watson that she is a member of a gang which has committed at least 20 robberies in Worthington.

Hays McDonald has been arrested and officers are on the lookout for others.

Celebrated an Anniversary.

Braddock lodge No. 2384, Knights and Ladies of Honor of Braddock, last evening observed the twenty-seventh anniversary of the order in Carnegie music hall, that place. The address of welcome was delivered by the Hon. John F. Cox of Homestead. Short talks were made by L. B. Lockard of Indianapolis, Ind., supreme protector, and by George Talt of the same city, supreme secretary. A delightful feature was a performance by the "Minstrel Maids," composed of 22 young girls and women of church choirs of Braddock, Turtle Creek, Swissvale, North Braddock and Wilmerding.

Brotherhood Will Meet.

The Allegheny county members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will hold a general meeting of their members in the parish house of St. Peter's church, Fifth and Craft avenues, at 8 o'clock this evening. George A. King, first vice president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in England, will be present. Mr. King will spend Saturday and Sunday in Pittsburgh as the guest of Mr. H. D. W. English.

Will Open Night School.

The directors of the Duquesne sub-district school, First ward, at a meeting Thursday night decided to open the school for night sessions and continue them through the winter. The common English branches will be taught, and books will be furnished free. In former years the attendants have been men ranging in years from 18 to 45, a large number being foreigners.

Wounds Wife; Kills Himself.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—John Dolowich, a Slav, today fatally wounded his wife with an ax and cut his son with the same weapon, attempted to kill his children and killed himself with a bread knife.

THE DEATH ROLL

John Serena.

John Serena, aged 75, for over a quarter of a century a coal operator in the Monongahela valley, died yesterday morning at his home in Seventh avenue, McKeesport, of appendicitis, after a short illness. He removed to McKeesport in 1849 and secure demployment in the mines in that district. In 1878 he embarked in the coal business and organized the Serena Coal Company, of which he was president. The business of the company is now conducted by a son, J. Elmer Serena. Mr. Serena is survived by four children—Hannah V., Mrs. P. L. Rhodes, J. F. Serena and J. Elmer Serena, the latter being a member of McKeesport select council. Mr. Serena took an active part in Republican politics in McKeesport for years.

Abraham Shenkan.

Abraham Shenkan, aged 66, father of Samuel Shenkan, member of common council from the Seventh ward, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 918 Wylie avenue, of congestion of the lungs, after a short illness. He was a native of Amsterdam, Holland, where he learned the trade of a diamond cutter and polisher. He came to this country when 25 years old and worked at his trade, later conducting a clothing store. His widow, two daughters and five sons survive. The funeral will be held from the family home at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

Daniel Webster Taylor.

Daniel Webster Taylor, died Friday night at his home in North Beaver township, Beaver county. He was 63 years old and leaves a widow and two children, Lieut. Jay Taylor, U. S. A., stationed at San Francisco, and Miss Mary Taylor. He was a son of Judge Samuel Taylor, who served two terms on the Lawrence county bench, and a brother of the late Rev. Dr. William H. Taylor, for 42 years pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church. He is survived by 11 brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Margaret Quinten.

Mrs. Margaret Quinten, aged 51, died at noon yesterday at her home in Franklin street, North Braddock, after a short illness of typhoid fever. She was born in Germany and had been a resident of East Pittsburgh for many years. She is survived by her husband, John Quinten, and five children. She was a member of St. Joseph's German Catholic church, Braddock.

HIDDEN DANGER AT CITY FIRES

Director Moore Wants to Establish a Bureau of Combustibles to Prevent Disasters.

MAY SAVE LIVES OF FIREMEN

Safety Director Moore desires to establish a bureau of combustibles for the purpose of regulating the sale, storage and transportation of dangerous explosives. The chief purpose of the bureau is to protect the firemen. As a result of the rapid advance in science of chemistry, there are today many dangerous explosives of which the firemen know nothing.

The matter was suggested to Director Moore by Chief Humphreys of the fire bureau, after the death of Chief Foley and one of his firemen at Milwaukee. A fire broke out in a printing establishment and Foley and nine of his men rushed into the place and extinguished it. During the fire some nitric acid had been spilled on the floor, and the fumes were inhaled by the firemen. That night Foley and one of his men died. The other eight had to be sent to a health resort in Texas, where they are still trying to recover from their injuries.

Chief Humphreys said there were scores of equally as dangerous chemicals as nitric acid now being used in manufacturing establishments in this city. He said the firemen are unacquainted with these chemicals and should they encounter them while at work, their lives would be endangered. Calcium carbide, a chemical used for generating gas and illuminating purposes, is a dangerous powder. The firemen often have to encounter this in fighting fires. The more water put on it the more inflammable it becomes.

It is the intention of Director Moore to have a board organized composed of the mayor, director of the department of public safety, superintendent of police, chief of the fire bureau and the city chemist. The board will appoint three chemists, who will be known as inspectors of explosives. It will be the duty of these men to invade the wholesale drug and chemical houses and locate the dangerous combustibles. A record of their location will be submitted to the fire chief. In addition, the inspectors will regulate the quantity of combustibles to be stored in buildings.

Director Moore said only a practical chemist could fill the position of inspector. In addition to this the transportation of powder, oils and dynamite would be under the supervision of the inspectors. Last week a wagonload of dynamite was taken through the city without the knowledge of the police or ordinance officers. While crossing the Forbes street bridge it was struck by a street car, but the impact was not sufficient to cause an explosion. Had it exploded the result would have been disastrous, as the car was filled with passengers.

Should Director Moore's idea meet the approval of Mayor Hays an ordinance will be drafted for the creation of the bureau.

HOMESTEAD STEEL MILLS GOING ON DOUBLE TURN

Notices were posted at the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company yesterday announcing that the converting mill, the 28-inch and 38-inch mills would resume double turn tomorrow night. These mills have been working but single turn for several weeks past, and the forces of each will be doubled. The resumption, it is said, will be permanent. All the other mills in the plant are working to their full capacity.

Polish Editor Held for Court.

Louis Maczynski, editor of the Gazetta Pittsburgkia, a Polish weekly published on the South Side, was held for court by Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday on three charges of libel made by John M. Nowack of Butler street. Nowack was formerly connected with the Peoples Polish bank of Lawrenceville, which closed its doors last April, and claims Maczynski was the author of several libelous articles published against him. Bail amounting to $900 was furnished.

WANT PARTITION OF A PLANT SITE

Valuable Property in the Tenth Ward, Pittsburgh, the Subject of Litigation.

SUIT TO RECOVER BONDS

Howe, Brown & Co., Limited, have begun equity proceedings for the partition of the site of the plant in the Tenth ward. John Croscan Cooper and a number of others are named as defendants. Many persons are interested, the titles of the plaintiff being derived from a number of sources. The proceedings involve the estates of the late Thomas M. Howe and Charles A. Howe and other well-known Pittsburghers. By inheritance the management Hussey, Wells & Co. is the original concern involved. After the change of name of Hussey, Wells & Co. the concern interests were denominated eighthiths, and after that one-eighth of sixteen-eighthths, and one-ninth of four-eighthths, and on down until the fraction had become 1-240. A petition cannot be agreed upon by the parties interested and the details of ownership are submitted to the court for a decision.

Equity proceedings were instituted by George A. Dodge, a stockholder of the Pittsburgh Steeplechase and Amusement Company, against John Moorehead, Jr., and the company, asking for an accounting on the part of Moorehead and the delivery of $20,000 of company bonds for cancellation. It is also asked that he be compelled to surrender 1,000 shares of the capital stock which he holds. The bill alleges his holding is without consideration and invalid.

Matthias Germerodt and others have filed a bill in equity against Frederick Germerodt for an accounting of the affairs of the estate of Nicholas Germerodt, deceased. The parties to the suit shared in the estate.

In the suit of Lutz & Schramm against the West Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in which a jury this week allowed the plaintiffs $60,000 for land taken by the railroad company, the plaintiffs have filed a motion for a new trial. They had sued for $300,000.

A motion for a new trial was made in the suit of Emma R. Morgenroth and others against other beneficiaries under the will of J. C. Large. The plaintiffs are not satisfied with the finding of the jury to the effect that the will they offered to prove was not the will of the deceased.

James L. Penny, a stock broker of Williamsburg, filed a petition in bankruptcy. He gives his liabilities as $53,442 05 and his assets as $5,216 82. Of the liabilities $45,332 76 are on secured claims.

The will of Mrs. Sarah C. Falls, widow of J. Smith Falls of Pittsburgh, disposes of an estate valued at $45,500. She directs that $1,000 be paid to the First Presbyterian church of New Castle in memory of her husband's parents. Susan C. Pomeroy, a sister of decedent's husband, is to receive $2,000 and a sister of the decedent, Jane Byser, $5,000. The residue of the estate is to go to Mary Emma, the daughter of the decedent and her children.

Letters of administration have been granted to Austin L. Bailey on the estate of Mary A. Bailey, late of Pittsburgh. The estate is valued at $37,000.

Decrees in distribution were made as follows: Elizabeth Grant, $482 05; Martha A. Oldshue, $16,000 28.

The petition was presented to the juvenile court asking that William, Arthur, Alice and Harry Ferris be returned to their parents. The children are now in the care of the Humane society, which does not wish to give the children up. The court refused to make the desired order until later and it was quite a time before the children and mother could be separated.

In criminal court Vito Foglio and Pasquale De Biasi were sent to the workhouse for nine months and Raffaelo De Biasi for six months for felonious assault. John Rocciland, for larceny, was sent to the Huntingdon reformatory.

John E Walker was acquitted of a misdemeanor and a charge of assault and battery made by Mrs. Ida B. Shopper. She was defendant in a suit charging assault and battery made by Walker, who was also prosecutor in a surety of the peace case against Henry Shopper, Mrs. Shopper's husband. The suits were the result of a series of family quarrels at Sodom. In all the cases the defendants were acquitted and the costs were divided.

On the trial list for criminal court for next week are two cases in which murder is charged. On Monday Lizzie Nolan will be placed on trial for the death of Samuel Pornton, who was shot to death at Bridgeville on July 30 last. On Wednesday Thomas Sterck and Robert Smothers will be tried. The defendants are policemen and are said to have caused the death of William O'Donnell, who was a prisoner at Central station. The policemen are alleged to have beaten the deceased in such a manner that he died.

Boys' clothing: featuring our 5.00 line

TO begin with, the styles in this line are distinctive, lacking the commonplace, conventional appearance of the usual run of boys' clothing.

S. W. Peck & Co., Ivan Frank & Co., Baumberger Bros., Scolling & Co., and other famous makers devoted their best talent to the making of these garments.

Every new style of the season is well represented. There are Norfolk suits, single or double-breasted, with regular or knickerbocker trousers; Russian blouse and Buster Brown suits; sailor suits with small or sailor collar, velvet suits, double-breasted suits and three-piece suits. In overcoats choose from Russian, military, hood and Buster Brown styles for the little chaps—or the double-breasted tourist coat reaching down to the ankles for the larger boys. We stand ready to refund your money if any of these 5.00 garments can be duplicated elsewhere under $6.50 to $7.50.

We've higher priced garments, of course, if you want them—ranging up to $15. Lower priced ones also. Two splendid lines of double-breasted and Norfolk suits for boys 7 to 16 years, and natty little overcoats for boys 2½ to 7 years at..... 2.00 and 3.00

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Exposition park.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.
New York at Brooklyn.
Boston at Philadelphia.

The Pirates strengthened their hold on third place by taking the first game of the closing series from the Chicago team, 6 to 1. There was only a small crowd out to see the contest, the day being anything but suitable for baseball, as a heavy fog hung over the park and at times it was difficult for the spectators to see the outfielders. The game was called at the end of the visitors' half of the eighth inning, as it was too dark to see the ball.

The visitors presented as their pitcher a youngster named Grothe, whom Frank Selee picked up somewhere in the east and who has had no experience in any league, having done all his pitching for amateur teams. The new twirler seems to have lots of speed, with an assortment of curves, and, while he put up a fair exhibition, yet his delivery did not seem to puzzle the Pirates to any extent, as they managed to secure hits just when they were needed, and these hits produced enough runs to win the game by a wide margin.

Sam Leever was called on to do the pitching for the local team, and the schoolmaster was in good form as far as pitching went, but he was away off in his fielding, and in the third inning placed his team in an ugly hole by bad fielding, and it took good play to keep the visitors from scoring more than one run, which was a gift to them and saved the team from a shutout. The Colts hit the ball hard enough, but the Pirates were on their good behavior and fast fielding prevented the scoring of runs.

The Chicago team has a number of young players who are making their first appearance in the league, and if their work yesterday is a fair sample of their ability, then Manager Selee has picked out some coming stars. Among the new players is "Pud" McChesney, a local boy, who was formerly with the Homestead team and who was one of the stars of the Western league this season. McChesney did not have anything to do in the fielding line and secured but one hit, yet he stands up well at the plate and raps the ball good and hard. Another new player is Hoffman, who covered middle field and who seems to be very fast. He made two or three very pretty catches; in fact, his clever fielding was the feature of the visitors' playing. POST SEASON SERIES.

The Pittsburgh and Cleveland Clubs Will Play Five Games Next Week.

The Pittsburgh National league team and the Cleveland American league club will play a post-season series next week. The schedule calls for games at Cleveland Monday and Tuesday and at Pittsburgh next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, provided five contests be necessary. The series will end as soon as one club wins three games and will not under any circumstances be continued beyond next Saturday, October 15. If the weather proves unfavorable and some of the games are prevented, they will be declared off. The only way in which the series may last longer than next Friday will be in the event of a tie and then the odd match will be played off in Cleveland on October 15.

The arrangements for the game were completed last night over the long-distance wires, President Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh and Vice President Somers of Cleveland conducted the negotiations. They agreed upon an umpire who is not connected with either league, and his name will be announced as soon as he accepts the engagement.

Wagner, who has been out of the game for nearly a month says he will play at Chicago Sunday, and participate in the contests with Cleveland. Clarke thinks he can go to left field. Clarke may be in today's game in order to get his hand in.

The Pittsburgh team will leave tonight for Chicago where it will finish the National league schedule by playing a single game tomorrow. It may need another victory to hold third place. Only 12 players will be taken to the Windy City. The others will leave this city early Monday morning for Cleveland.

Normals Ready for Shadyside.

CALIFORNIA, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Hard practice yesterday and this afternoon have put the Normals into good trim for the game with Shadyside tomorrow. Jenkins has been moved from tackle to his old position of fullback, while Hall, a new man from Kiski, has taken his place on the line.

NEW FORMATION IS TRIED BY THE COACHES AT YALE

The Play Suggests Harvard's "Flying Wedge"—Some Hard Work at Harvard.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Yale's football practice to-day was devoted chiefly to practice of a new formation for protecting the runner who carries back the ball on the kick-off. The scheme of play suggested Harvard's famous "flying wedge" of several years ago. The quarterback was the forward point with the two end rushers on the first line back and behind them the center and guards, with the tackles and halfbacks in the far rear protecting the fullback. With the ball tucked under his arm, the back who caught followed his swiftly forming protective line of deploying in a close line.

That the scheme will work well when perfected was at once shown. Captain Hogan, Shevlin and Roome in turn making big distances up field before downed by tacklers. Field Coach Rafferty personally coached the ends much of the afternoon, running down with each pair of men under kicks. His own work was superlatively better than any other man, simply emphasizing the greenness of Yale's end candidates.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The Harvard varsity and second elevens played a tie game today, each side getting 11 points. Reggie Brown, coach of the second eleven, scored a touchdown on a 93-yard run from a fake kick. Clem Meier scored the other touchdown for the second, after getting the ball on a fumble on the 30-yard line. Wendell, the freshman who has been at right halfback on the varsity eleven for two days, scored on a 50-yard run through the right side of the second's line. The varsity made its other touchdown on line bucking. Barney, a 250-pound freshman from the Roxbury Latin school, played at center on the second eleven and put it all over White, who played opposite him.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—At Princeton it has become a question of which team is the varsity and which the scrub. During the recent practices the supposed second team has for the greater part had things its own way, and has made more straight touchdowns than the eleven with the veteran players.

The Tigers meet W. & J. tomorrow. Carothers will take Stannard's place and Dutcher will be put at guard.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The Cornell varsity took only light practice today because of tomorrow's game with Hamilton. It is practically certain now that Coach Warner will start his best eleven in the game, which will be the first time that a full varsity eleven will have been seen in actual contest this season. Today's practice was devoted to tackling and running down the field.

EX-PITTSBURGHER GUILTY.

Dr. Arthur W. Henry Convicted of Bigamy—Another Charge Against Him Withdrawn.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Dr. Arthur W. Henry, formerly of Pittsburgh, this afternoon was convicted of bigamy in marrying Miss Bessie Raney of Conneaut Lake, Pa., on July 28, when he had at least one wife living, formerly Miss Hattie Cole of Kinsman. He was at first arrested at the instance of Mrs. Nellie Butler, who charged him with obtaining money from her under false pretense and the next week marrying Miss Raney. She withdrew the charge.

It is said Henry also had a divorced wife in Walla Walla, Ida.

Dying Man Accused Boy.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—John Giglardo, aged 16, son of James Giglardo, a merchant at Walston, was arrested today and held pending a preliminary examination tomorrow concerning the death of Reese Serrian, an Italian miner, who was shot in Giglardo's store last night. Serrian, before he died, said the boy shot him.

ALLEGHENY PREPS WIN.

Defeat Allegheny High School, Scoring Two Touchdowns.

The Allegheny Preps won the first game of their season, yesterday, by defeating the Allegheny High school team, 11 to 0. In the first half High school kicked to Fife, who came back 25 yards. By a series of bucks and short dashes by the Preps' backs and tackles Fife went over for the first score. Reiter kicked goal. High school received the kickoff and after carrying it to Preps' 20-yard line lost on downs. The Preps advanced the ball to the 32-yard line, where Reiter circled the end for a touchdown. Sensational tackling by Sloan and Murphy prevented gains at end, while Murphy and Shilton broke up many line plays. Lyon and Fahnestock at guards did more than their share in stopping close plays. Hagan, Melhuish and Shilton, the new men on the Prep team, played an excellent game. Tustin, Fife and Reiter played their positions well. The High school team showed lack of team work, with Buka, McKown, McGinness and Chatam doing the bulk of the work. Chatam played brilliantly. Line-up:

Allegheny Preps.—11.		Allegheny High.—0.
Sloan	L. E.	Sutton
Ed. Murphy	L. T.	McGinness

SOCIETY

MRS. WILLIAM COOPER BOND will be her sister's matron of honor at the wedding of Miss Gertrude Martin and Frederick Findley Rohrer on Tuesday evening, October 18. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Martin, in North Highland avenue at 6 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Martin giving his daughter away and also officiating at the wedding. The ceremony will be witnessed only by the immediate relatives and most intimate friends, but a large reception will follow. In addition to the matron of honor, Miss Martin will be attended by Miss Margaret Martin, another sister, and Miss Eleanor Rohrer, a sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids, and by little Miss Mary Kirkpatrick Harris, a niece of Mr. Rohrer, as flower girl. Mr. Rohrer will have Allen Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Braddock, as his best man, and Jay Frank Rohrer, his brother, and Dr. John Lauchlan Martin, his prospective brother-in-law, as ushers. At the conclusion of their wedding trip the bridal couple will be at home in Hampton place, Wilkinsburg, after December 1. Mr. Rohrer is connected with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in East Pittsburgh. Miss Rohrer, the bridesmaid, will arrive from Harrisburg about the middle of next week, and will be entertained at the home of Miss Martin. The bridegroom's father, J. F. Rohrer of Harrisburg, and Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Harris of New Castle will come to Pittsburgh for the wedding, after which they will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Armstrong of Lexington avenue, Homewood.

China Shower and Euchre.

Twenty girls were the guests of Miss Laura Hammer at the euchre and china shower which she gave yesterday afternoon at her home in Rebecca street, East End. The guest of honor was Miss Lydia Cathern Elizabeth Sawert, whose marriage to Dr. Leander Miller Seaton will take place October 18. The guests yesterday included Miss Verd Smith, Miss Mary Gilchrist and Miss Mayme Miller, who won the prizes, and Miss Sawert, Miss Nell Sawert, Miss Helen Walter, Miss Sarah Chestet, Mrs. Robert McCready, Mrs. George Bruce Hilholland, Mrs. Charles Coll, Mrs. John Sawert, Miss May Stillwagon, Miss Lillian McKee, Miss Sarah Miller and Miss Ava McCready.

Interesting Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Goshorn Ayres of Sharpsburg have formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Lawrence Ayres, and Dr. Edward Duff King of this city. Miss Ayres is a granddaughter of the late Arthur King of Sharpsburg, and her fiance is a son of the late Robert H. King of Pittsburgh. No date has been spoken of for the wedding, but it is understood that it will take place early this winter very quietly. Dr. King and his bride will spend the winter in Pasadena, Cal., and the remainder of the first year of their married life in travel.

Informal Entertainments.

Mrs. J. H. Hillman of Shady avenue will entertain informally at cards next Wednesday afternoon, and Mrs. Charles Eaton of Sellers street will be hostess at a similar entertainment this afternoon.

Mrs. Laurens McLure of Oakmont was hostess at an informal fancy-work party yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Alice Knox Paul, an October bride-elect.

Mrs. H. G. Porterfield of Kentucky avenue, gave a euchre yesterday afternoon with Miss Lottie Lillian Jahn, a bride-elect, as guest of honor. Last evening Miss Jahn's fiance, John Paul Garling, gave a theater party at the Nixon.

Mrs. W. R. Balsinger of Neville street was hostess at a luncheon of 12 covers yesterday in honor of Miss Ida Marie Sandles of Braddock, who will be married next Wednesday morning to George Ebersole Rose.

Physical Culture Teacher to Marry.

The engagement of Miss Edith M. Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Follette of Wilmington, Vt., and Harry D. Castle of Boston, Mass., announced in Pittsburgh a few months ago, will terminate in a large church wedding at the bride's home on Tuesday, October 18. Miss Bell was instructor in physical culture at the Central Young Women's Christian association in this city last year, and a number of invitations for the wedding have been sent to her friends here. The prospective bridegroom is identified with the Johns-Mannville Asbestos Company in Boston, where he and his bride will live.

The P. C. W. Seniors Entertain.

The seniors at the Pennsylvania College for Women entertained with a dance last evening in Dilworth hall. The officers of the class, Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Helen Moore, Miss Elizabeth Pew, Miss Frances Fitzgibbon and Miss Florence Van Wagonen, received the guests, who included the collegiates, the members of the faculty and the resident students.

An exposition party next Friday night is being planned by the resident students at the college.

Among the Late Arrivals.

Winfield K. Shiras of Colonial place, Shadyside, left the city last evening for Port Hope, Canada, where he will join his wife and children, who have been there all summer. Mrs. Albert Childs, who is with her daughter, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Shiras home on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Melton of Fifth avenue, East End, who have been spending the sumer near the Black Forest in Germany, will come home about the middle of the month.

Mrs. Adams Will Entertain.

Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams of Fifth avenue, near Emerson, will issue invitations next week for a reception which she will give on Thursday afternoon, October 20. The hours will be from 3 until 6 o'clock, the guest of honor being her daughter, Mrs. John L. Garner of Denver, Col., who is visiting her mother. Mrs. Adams' niece, Miss Janet Browne, will be home from Hopwood, W. Va., in time for the reception.

Engagement and October Wedding.

Although the engagement of Miss Nellie Mead, daughter of J. J. Mead of Westminster street, Shadyside, and Thomas Strand of New York city has never been formally announced, it has been an open secret among Miss Mead's friends in the city for some time. The engagement will terminate in a very quiet wedding on Thursday, October 27.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Southern Women's Reunion.

Reunion day was observed by the Southern Women's society yesterday afternoon in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music in Dithridge street. There was a large attendance of the members of the club together with a number of guests. Following the exchange of greetings between the club members after the summer vacation the formal program for the afternoon was opened with the singing of "Dixie Land." Short talks were made by members of the program committee and a number of the club women gave bright, interesting sketches of the summer just over. The meeting closed with the singing of "America." The Southern Women's society aims to be a purely social organization composed of southern women whose homes are in Pittsburgh. At each meeting it will have northern women as guests. It has nothing to do with politics, but has for its object the preservation of the memory of the old southern home life, the history of the south as it appeared in the beginning of colonization in this country, the memory of the great national leaders who have come forth from the southern states and the spirit of hospitality which pervaded the homes of the south. The society has adopted the blue and the gray as its colors, and its motto is "Lest We Forget." Yesterday Mrs. J. M. Hall was elected to fill the vacancy in the recording secretaryship caused by the resignation of Mrs. James M. Drill. Mrs. George H. MacFarland was elected musical director in place of Mrs. James Blair Walker, resigned.

More Room is Needed.

The first meeting of the visiting committee of the Children's hospital since last July was held yesterday. The attendance was not very large, as many of the members of the committee have not yet returned home from their summer trips, some of them not being expected until just before the November meeting. The president, Mrs. George M. Guthrie, presided. The hospital has been unusually crowded during the summer, 150 children having been there since the opening in the early summer following the closing of the institution for a time because of contagious disease. The need of more room and better facilities for taking care of the children is apparent as many applicants had to be turned away because of lack of accommodation. So much routine business had to be attended to yesterday that the further consideration of the plans for the addition to the hospital had to be deferred until a later meeting. The officers of the visiting committee are Mrs. George M. Guthrie, president; Miss Mary F. McKee, Mrs. Herbert DuPuy, Mrs. Horace Dravo and Mrs. James W. Brown, vice presidents; Mrs. A. M. Imbrie, treasurer, and Miss Bessie Johnston, secretary.

Corner Stone Laying Delayed.

The board of directors of the United Presbyterian Women's association had intended deciding yesterday on the date for the laying of the corner stone of the new Memorial hospital in Wilkinsburg, but there have been unexpected delays in the work and the matter is deferred. The erection of the new wing to the Home for the Aged was given a great deal of consideration, several changes in the plans having been proposed. Bids are being taken now for the work which the women hope to commence very soon. The wing, which will correspond in appearance to the present one, will cost between $20,000 and $25,000. The directors at the meeting yesterday recommended that the association at its annual meeting the last Friday in October take up the subject of the annual entertainment, recommending that some informal social affair take the place of the bazar held for many years, but omitted last fall.

Working for State Legislation.

The Quadru-County Graduate Nurses association yesterday elected two delegates to attend the second annual meeting of the State Nurses association in Philadelphia October 26, 27 and 28. They are Miss Ellen Hunt, a graduate of the West Penn hospital training school, and Mrs. William M. Lytle of the Homeopathic hospital. Miss Duncan will also attend, she being a member of the membership committee. At the meeting in Philadelphia a bill calling for state registration of trained nurses and creating a uniform standard of nursing will be drawn up and presented for the approval of the delegates from all parts of the state. The Quadru-County association yesterday elected officers, including the president, Miss Ellen Hunt; vice president, Miss Wilhelmina Duncan, and secretary, Miss Kums. The treasurer, Miss Lohr, was re-elected.

Tarentum Book Club Meets.

The Tarentum Book club held its first meeting of the season last evening at the home of Mrs. Lillian Stofiel, in First avenue, Tarentum. Papers were read by Mrs. E. M. Warner, on "The Invasion of the Romans," and by Mrs. Stofiel on "Early Religions." A round table was conducted by Miss Lola Travis, parliamentary drill by Mrs. M. M. Brinley and Mrs. James M. Esler gave several readings.

COLLISION ON PANHANDLE; OPERATOR FORGOT ORDER

Fireman Killed—Five Persons Injured, One Being from Pittsburgh.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 7.—The Wheeling express, eastbound, on the Panhandle railroad, collided with a light freight engine, on Hanlins hill, near here, at 8:30 this morning. John Rauch, fireman on the passenger engine, was killed.

The injured are: David Ritchie, Charles Sweeney, Harry Sloan, W. H. Meyers and J. A. Wells. All live in Pittsburgh or its suburbs.

The operator at PF tower had been instructed to hold the Wheeling express at the tower until the light engine arrived, but went off duty and forgot to give the order to the man whom he left in charge of the tower house. The latter allowed the express to proceed. Both engines were demolished.

FURNACE REPORT SHOWS A CONTINUED INCREASE

Idle Capacity on October 1 Is Smallest of Any Time in the Year Except During Spring Spurt.

The smallest idle furnace capacity in the year, excepting only the months of April and May, when there was a spurt in production, is reported by Chairman J. G. Butler, Jr., of the Bessemer Pig Iron association for October 1. The report for the month was completed yesterday by Mr. Butler and his assistants. Out of 192 stacks using Lake Superior ore and reporting to the association, 129 were in and 63 out on October 1.

The daily capacity of the entire 192 stacks is 55,300 tons. The active capacity is 41,174 tons, and the idle capacity 14,126 tons, showing the idle capacity on October 1 to be 26 per cent, a decrease of 2 per cent since September 1.

The idle capacity from the beginning of the year follows: January 1, 64½ per cent; February 1, 38; March, 28; April, 14½; May, 10½; June, 30; July, 35; August, 41; September, 28; October, 26.

The resumption of furnace operations is probably the best indication of improvement throughout the iron and steel industry and the increase in operations which began in the latter part of August is shown to have been steadily maintained through September. The outlook is for a still further decrease in the number of idle furnaces during the present month.

WORN TO A SHADOW.

When there is a falling off in flesh in woman or man there is "something wrong." And that something wrong is generally a loss of nutrition due to disease of the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition. Sometimes this loss of flesh is accompanied by variable appetite, but in many cases the appetite does not fail and there may be a constant desire to eat. Languor, nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, are symptoms often associated with this loss of nutrition and falling off in flesh.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food so that lost flesh is regained and the physical health re-established.

"I had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 1613 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness, with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and have taken several bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it. I most heartily recommend these medicines to all suffering as I was."

Discards Useless Drugs and Medicines, Yet Heals Hopeless Invalids Pronounced Incurable by Physicians.

Offers Services and Home Treatment Free of Charge to Rich and Poor Alike—Believes It Is His Duty to God and Man to Labor for the Sick and Afflicted Who Stand in Need.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The mysterious healing power of Professor William Wallace Hadley of this city, which enables him to cure hopeless invalids when doctors, drugs and all other means have failed, has aroused widespread wonder and comment in all circles, physicians and scientists being as much in the dark for an explanation as those outside the medical profession.

Various attempts to discover this man's secret have failed, since he has refused to disclose the source of his most marvelous control over disease and his strange power to stay the clutch of death. Yet the proven facts and evidence show that in hundreds of instances when patients have been pronounced hopelessly incurable and given up to death by doctors, Professor Hadley has restored them to health so easily and quickly that it borders closely upon the miraculous or divine. These cures are the more strange and startling since it is known that he has discarded the useless drugs usually prescribed by physicians and accomplishes these marvels by a new and wonderful method of treatment unlike any heretofore known to science. Indeed, one woman goes so far as to state that Prof. Hadley made her heart beat again in her body when she was prepared for the grave, and he has performed dozens of other seeming miracles of healing in the face of death. He claims that there is no disease he may not cure, and there is every reason to believe that this claim, startling as it is, is no more than the literal truth, since the records show that he has cured cancer, consumption, paralysis, deafness and other diseases supposed to be incurable, with the same ease and certainty that he cured stomach and kidney troubles, rheumatism, catarrh and the more common ailments that human flesh is heir to.

Powerful and peculiar as is Prof. Hadley's ability, an almost equally remarkable thing about this man is the fact that he gives his treatment free of charge to rich and poor alike, devoting himself to the relief of afflicted humanity independent of fees or reward. He is quoted as saying that he looks upon this power he possesses as a divine gift, and that he feels it is his duty as a Christian to help all who stand in need, without attempting to extort money for his services.

During a recent interview with Prof. Hadley, the eminent scientist firmly but courteously declined to discuss the secret of the power that he holds, but finally was induced to speak of some of the almost miraculous cures he has made. Speaking of the case of Joseph R. Stewart of Camden, N. J., one of his recent patients, Prof. Hadley said: "Mr. Stewart had been told by various physicians that he had cancer of the stomach, complicated with kidney disease and bowel trouble, that his case was incurable and beyond the reach of medicine, and that he must make the most of what little life was left to him before death claimed him. He suffered most terrible agonies, and was on the verge of the grave when he applied to me as a last resort. Notwithstanding what the doctors had said, I accepted the case, put him under my treatment and cured him. Today he is worth a good many dead men, and in a recent letter to me speaks of his cure as a 'miracle.' Then there was the case of Mrs. M. Worthington of Egg Harbor, N. J. For twenty-five years she had been a hopeless invalid from complicated female troubles, many long months bedridden in hospitals, and pronounced hopelessly incurable and given up to die by all her physicians. But she put her faith in me, threw away her old medicines, and today is the picture and reality of perfect health. I took the case of Mr. E. C. Bass of El Campo, Texas, after the doctors had given him up to death and could do nothing to revive him. Brought to this condition by the combined attack of kidney and liver diseases, dropsy and articular rheumatism, he suffered the torments of the damned and was almost insane with pain. Doctors and their medicines failed utterly. But I did not fail. I cured him. I restored him to life and health without his even knowing just how it was done. Then recently I received this letter from Mrs. Victoria Wallace of Great Falls, Mont., which will give you an idea of how my patients regard my power to cure." The writer copied Mrs. Wallace's letter, which, word for word, is as follows: "You must be a Divine Healer, gifted of God, to perform such a miracle of healing. I was so ill and had been for many years, that I prayed for death to end my suffering—my agonies. But the Great Master knew better, and I believe he directed me to you that I might find life and health. I was a physical wreck, suffering from rheumatism, heart disease and scrofula, nervous prostration, and it seemed like hell at times, the horrors I can never express. I pleaded to Heaven to take me home out of my misery. I was in this state when you came to my rescue with your skill your heart full of sympathy and skill. You have cured me so completely that the past seems like a nightmare which I want to forget. In the three weeks' treatment I have grown twenty years younger in looks. Although fifty years of age, I feel like a woman of thirty. I marvel at myself. I look forward to a long life of usefulness. You certainly rescued me from the grave, after other eminent physicians had failed." And one from C. S. Harrell of Cato, Ark., reads: "You seem to know just what the trouble is and just how to cure it. Hereafter I am through with quack doctors and their useless drugs, for they are not worth a pinch of salt compared with your treatment. I was sick so long with liver and kidney disease and stomach trouble, that all the blood seemed gone from my body, and I looked like a corpse ready for burial. I was so weak and suffered so much and so constantly that I could not work on my farm as I needed to. Now I am feeling wonderfully different. You have driven the disease out of my body as you promised, and I assure you that I am most thankful for it. I feel that you saved my life."

"Cases come to me from all over the country," continued the professor, "that have baffled some of the best physicians and specialists, where one doctor has said the trouble was one thing and the next something else, until the patients were at a loss to know what disease they really were suffering from. Is it any wonder the sufferers fail to get well when they are not only treated for the wrong disease, but also given useless medicines on the hit or miss plan? But I am able to make a correct and careful diagnosis of each case that comes to me, and, seeing the cause, apply the power to cure."

"But how about those who cannot afford to come to New York to have you treat them?"

"It does not make the slightest difference. I cure them in their own homes just as easily and just as surely as if I went to them or they came to me. Distance cannot weaken the healing power I have. All that anyone who is ill in any way, from any cause, has to do is to write me a letter, addressing William Wallace Hadley, office 1052 H, 703 Madison ave., New York, telling me the disease they suffer from most, or their principal symptoms, age and sex, and I will give them a course of home treatment absolutely free of charge."

"Do you really mean that anyone who is sick can write you to be cured without paying you any money?"

"Yes, I mean just that. I believe that as a Christian it is my duty to God and man to help all who are in need. When I have been given the power to cure I do not believe that I have the right to make anyone waste his money on useless drugs when I can heal him without them. It is not alone the needless expense, but medicines and the surgeon's knife often do more harm than good, as even the medical profession will confess if they speak the truth. We all owe a duty to our fellow-men; we must all serve in one way or another. Where a rich man gives money, I give health. I am not a millionaire, but I am able to afford to do my share toward relieving the sufferings of mankind. And I am happy to give freely of my services wherever they are needed. And I am especially anxious to cure any poor mortal who has been told that his or her case is incurable; that there is no hope left on earth. Or anyone who has grown weary spending money on drugs and doctors in a vain search for health. If they will write to me and accept my offer there is not only hope, but an almost absolute certainty that they need be sick no longer. And it is a blessing that my power makes a letter to me do just as much good as a personal visit."

WHO CAN MAKE THE BEST PIE FROM THE LARGEST PUMPKIN?
WHO HAS THE LARGEST PUMPKIN IN THE STATE?

Pickering, the largest furniture store in the world, corner Tenth and Penn, Pittsburgh, wants every person that owns a pumpkin in this State and thinks it is the largest to cut his name and address on it with penknife, then take it to the Express Office and ship it to Pickering. All will be placed on exhibition in the big store Hallowe'en week. A committee will pick out the heaviest five.

1st Prize, $10.00 Rocking Chair.
2d Prize, $ 5.00 Rocking Chair.
3d Prize, $ 3.00 Rocking Chair.
4th Prize, $ 2.50 Rocking Chair.
5th Prize, $ 2.00 Rocking Chair.

Be sure to cut your name and address on the pumpkin, bring or ship it any time before Hallowe'en. Just as soon as yours arrives we will weigh it, keep an account of it and announce the winners' names next day after Hallowe'en, in our ad. in all Pittsburgh papers.

No pumpkin received after Tuesday, October 25.

Pickering reserves the right to keep and give to the poor all pumpkins sent to him. The first prize pumpkin will be cut into 20 or more pieces and given to as many ladies that call for it on Wednesday, October 26, to the one making the best pie she will receive a $10 Rocker; second best pie, $5 Rocker; third best pie, $3 Rocker. The 20 or more pies will be placed on exhibition Saturday, October 29, and on Hallowe'en night 20 boys, with their hands tied behind them, will eat the pies. The boy that finishes first receive $1 in gold; second $1 in silver.

The seeds of the first prize pumpkin will be done up into 100 or more envelopes; each farmer calling after November 1 can have one package. Then next year the farmer that produces the largest pumpkin from Pickering's prize seed will receive $15 worth of merchandise; second largest, $10 merchandise; third, $5 merchandise.

Now for it; who has the largest pumpkin? Send it or bring it to
PICKERING'S FURNITURE STORE,
Pittsburgh.

P. S.—Is there anything else we could do with the prize pumpkin?

Be sure to cut your name and address on the pumpkin, bring or ship it any time before Hallowe'en. Just as soon as yours arrives we will weigh it, keep an account of it and announce the winners' names next day after Hallowe'en, in our ad. in all Pittsburgh papers.

No pumpkin received after Tuesday, October 25.

Pickering reserves the right to keep and give to the poor all pumpkins sent to him. The first prize pumpkin will be cut into 20 or more pieces and given to as many ladies that call

REACTION WAS CHECKED AND STOCKS RALLIED

Firmer Rates for Money Caused Some Selling at the Close—Decided Falling Off in Dealings on the Local Exchange.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a further falling off in the dealings in the New York stock market yesterday, but the reaction which was in progress at the close on Thursday soon disappeared at the opening of the market yesterday. The great strength of Reading, which carried the stock up to 72% early in the session, encouraged the bulls on the general list, and this strength extended to Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper. The latter made a new high mark on this movement by advancing to 62%, and it had the benefit of a very strong metal market, the price being advanced ¼ cent a pound, making 8¾ cent for the week. Steel preferred opened a shade lower at 74¼, which proved to be the low price of the day, and the ease with which it rallied 1½ per cent was evidence that the market was still well within the control of the bull forces. Pressed Steel Car common advanced to 34¾ and Republic Iron and Steel common to 11¾. One of the speculative leaders of the market, who was formerly identified with the iron and steel business in a prominent way, favored the street with an interview in which he reiterated his statement that actual improvement had taken place in the industry and that the outlook was very bright.

Aside from the activity in Reading and Erie, there was no particular interest in the rest of the railroad stocks. St. Paul rallied to 168¾ and the Harriman group advanced ½ to 1 per cent, but the trading was on a constantly diminishing scale.

The rally held well until late in the afternoon, when the firmer tendency to the call loan market, based upon expectations of a bad bank statement today, caused a selling movement, the result of which was to wipe out much of the early gains. Reading, however, closed at a net advance of 1⅝ per cent, and with few exceptions the remainder of the railroad list closed ½ to ⅝ per cent higher than on Thursday. The iron and steel stocks closed a small fraction higher for the day, while Amalgamated Copper closed 1¼ per cent up. The market was considered to have acted extremely well, in view of the previous activity and advance, and commission houses were generally predicting a continuation of the rise next week.

Cotton rallied somewhat and closed higher for the day. The grain markets, on the other hand, were extremely weak. Wheat broke 2 cents, and May corn at one time sold down to 45¾c. Both rallied somewhat at the close, and, while the liquidation yesterday was partly due to the fact that the Chicago board of trade will be closed today, the conviction is forcing itself upon the trade that the crop yield promises to be better than former estimates, and that while there may be a shortage in the world's supply of wheat, which will have some effect upon corn, the market will be compelled to wait until the foreign consumer is educated to the higher range. Export clearances of wheat and corn are still below the average of the season.

Call loan rates touched 2½ per cent during the afternoon, and the estimates of the movement of currency and operations with the sub-treasury indicate a loss of cash in today's bank statement of between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000. A further reduction in surplus reserve is therefore probable, but it cannot be said that any apprehension exists over the future of the market.

There was a very decided falling off in business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday and the tone of the market lost its buoyancy. Steel and coal stocks relapsed into dullness and the most active dealings were in Luster Mining, which advanced to 16, the highest of the year, and closed at a net gain of $1 a share. The rise was based upon official information from the mine that the new furnace of the company is now working satisfactorily. The only other active stock was Westinghouse Electric, which rallied to and closed at 82¾. The coal stocks were neglected. Small lots of Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 15¾ to 16, and 50 shares of the preferred at 87¾. The latter closed offered at 87¼. Crucible Steel common and United States Steel preferred were slightly higher, but the remainder of this group was dull and barely steady. National Fire Proofing preferred rallied to 32¾. Natural gas stocks were quiet but steady. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 115, a decline of ⅝ per cent from the last previous sale.

There were no dealings at the regular bank call, but a good demand developed for this class of security at auction which occurred after the close of the exchange.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

At auction yesterday John D. Bailey sold by order of the receiver of Davis, Hazlett & Company the appended list of securities. The latter were all pledged with local banks as collateral to secure loans, and the prices realized were pretty well up to regular quotations. The demand for bank stocks was good and the attendance of bidders was larger than at any recent auction sale. Following were the amounts sold and prices realized:

15 shares Colonial Trust 339
35 shares North American Savings 110
20 shares Duquesne National Bank 270
2 shares Cosmopolitan National Bank 103
1 share Exchange National Bank 82
33 shares Federal National Bank 182
17 shares Federal National Bank 181
15 shares Federal National Bank 180
10 shares Liberty Oil and Development 60
100 shares Pittsburgh Coal 15¾
$1,000 Consumers Gas Company bonds 50
$1,000 Pittsburgh Oil and Gas 6s 93½
$1,000 B. K. & A. Traction 6s 115½

President Charles A. Painter announced on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the death of Joseph C. Morris, which occurred during the morning. The event was not wholly unexpected, as Mr. Morris had been an invalid for years. Still, he had a wonderful degree of pluck, and only last month he visited the office of Morris, Brown & Company, of which he was the senior member, and expressed a lively interest in the stock market. Mr. Morris was a member of the Pittsburgh and New York stock exchanges, and a score of years ago took an active interest in the oil market, Pittsburgh at that time being the center of the speculation. The last big deal in oil conducted by the firm, which the deceased gave his personal attention and carried to a successful conclusion, was in April, 1895. The boom for which the firm was operating obtained control of practically all the National Transit certificates outstanding and then began to bid up the price on the exchange. On the first day of April the Standard quoted $1 10 for oil and the exchange bid the price up to $1 47. Ten days later the price reached $2, and the daily fluctuations were too violent ever witnessed in the trade. The pool unloaded at an enormous profit, and as soon as this interest had been eliminated the price receded and speculation died out. It has never since been revived.

It was reported that the floating supply of North American Savings Company stock had been cleaned up yesterday, and all the stock offered at auction was taken at 110.

A. C. Robinson, of Robinson Brothers, was yesterday elected a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange. Howard M. Hooker was elected a director of the exchange to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. H. Robinson, who will leave within two weeks for California, where he will spend the winter.

Private sales of Tonopah Extension were reported yesterday at $1 85, the highest price ever quoted for the stock.

The Advance in Luster Mining to 16, the highest of the year, was based upon news received by the company that the new furnace, which was started about a week ago, is working satisfactorily. This new furnace has a capacity of 150 tons a day, and the total capacity is now 200 tons a day.

On the exchange yesterday 25 shares Union Natural Gas sold at 95, an advance.

Copper prices have again been advanced ¼ cent a pound. This makes an advance of ⅝ cents a pound since last week. Lake is now 13¼ cents and Electro 13⅛. Copper is now at the highest price reached in several months.

The head of a New York commission house expressed the following opinion: "There appears to be no doubt that the banking syndicates intend to cause higher prices to be seen in our stock market later and that the basis for these advances will not only be the increase of earnings for the future, but that dividends will be increased on many of our railroad stocks later, where earnings will warrant such action."

The anthracite coal shipments by the Reading company in September were 733,000 tons, the lowest in that month since 1894, except in the strike year 1902.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation which it is said will soon make a new issue of stock is one of the few anthracite coal properties which is not heavily capitalized. The company's outstanding stock is $16,000,000 and it has behind it more than sufficient property in railroads and canals to fully cover the issue. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company owns coal territory which contains 200,000,000 to 300,000,000 tons of the best anthracite coal which, at a royalty of 30 cents a ton, would give the stock a value far above Lackawanna, which was quoted at $300 the other day. One quarter of the stock is owned by the First National bank party of New York, the Finance Company of Philadelphia and the A. S. Hewitt and H. Pratt McKean estates.

The average price of 325 securities dealt in on London stock exchange advanced 0.7 per cent in the month ending September 20; recovering about one-third of the loss of the previous two months. The slight recovery made was chiefly in foreign stocks.

Reading continued very conspicuous in continuation of Thursday's advance. There was no traffic news to account for the movement. The buyers preferred the vague rumors of an early dividend disbursement and the conversion of second preferred stock into half common and half first preferred stock. The preferred stocks were not active. There was very heavy buying of Erie, and Ontario & Western moved up in sympathy.

The gross earnings of Illinois Central for August increased $243,105 and net earnings increased $541,700.

The gross earnings of Chicago Great Western for August decreased $105,546 and net earnings decreased $34,021.

The currency movement up to Thursday evening, as reported during the day, showed a smaller withdrawal by the sub-treasury than last week, but the shipments on balance by express brought the probable cash loss to over seven million dollars. The supposition that there has been large speculative liquidation in the stock market points to a contraction in loans.

Peter Dunne, the creator of the famous Mr. Dooley, was a visitor to one of the large New York exchange houses yesterday. Among the bits of wisdom Mr. Dunne distributed among the customers was the following: "Two or three of our friends, like Johnny Gates or Jakey Field, take hold of a stock and run it up 2 or 3 points and two or three other traders take hold of another stock and run it down several points. We are all wondering whether we can make a turn in either of these two stocks without being caught with the goods on us at a lower price than we have paid for it, when the Evening Post comes out and explains it all with a dissertation on the political conditions in Macedonia. We then discover for the first time that the reason why our friend Johnny Gates has advanced Amalgamated Brass and the reason why our friend Jakey Field has caused a break in Amalgamated Soft is that the czar of Russia has the toothache."

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges increased more than $1,000,000 over same day last year.

Auction sale of bank stocks develops a fairly good demand.

Decided falling off in dealings on the stock exchange.

Luster Mining advanced to 16, the highest price for years.

Westinghouse Electric rallied to and closed at 82¾.

Coal and Steel stocks were dull but steady.

IN WALL STREET.

Stock market rallied, but trading was much less active.

Sales foot up only 759,300 shares stock and $3,215,000 bonds.

Reading was the strongest and advanced to 72⅝.

Amalgamated Copper also made a new high mark, advancing to 62¾.

Steel preferred rallied to 75⅜ and all issues closed higher.

Rise in call loans to 2½ per cent caused some selling near the close.

The Bond Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Government bonds closed steady. SITE IS BOUGHT FOR WAREHOUSES

John J. O'Reilly Will Erect Four Buildings in Liberty Avenue to Cost $60,000.

BUILDING UP NEW STREET

Another warehouse project to involve an expenditure for buildings of $60,000 is announced for the Tenth ward. The owner will be John J. O'Reilly, who has bought through the Real Estate Trust Company 1627 Liberty avenue to complete his site. This property, which was secured from Mrs. Mary Haugh, brought $9,000 and measures 18x100 feet, extending back to Spring alley. Mr. O'Reilly had previously purchased 86x100 feet adjoining, giving him a total site of 104x100 feet. Plans will be drawn at once for four six-story brick warehouses which will be erected. These will be equipped with steam heat and elevators and will be the best buildings of that sort in the neighborhood. The increase in the amount of warehouse building the past year is significant as a large part of it is done by private individuals for investment, these buildings having been found to pay better than either store or office structures.

Through the office of Jacob H. Goehring William H. Brown has sold to Milton B. Bates 100x130 feet at the southeast corner of Marlborough street and Murray avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $10,000 cash. The lot is directly across the street from the Sixth Presbyterian church and will be improved at once with a $15,000 residence. Marlborough street is a new street, 50 feet wide and provided with all the city improvements, but until recently no move has been made to build it up. Robert Ostermaier will soon build a fine residence on the street and another costly house will be erected by Mrs. McCreery.

Seventh Street Raising Assured.

The project to raise Seventh street to a level with Penn avenue and Duquesne way is progressing rapidly. The signatures of all the property owners in the street have been secured, it is said, to a petition which will be presented to councils in a few days. The city attorney has already passed upon the legal points of the project and if possible work will be started on the improvement this fall. The street will be raised 3.5 feet in the middle of the street, or up to the doorstep of the Logan-Gregg building. No announcement has been made of the estimated cost of the improvement which, it is said, will be borne by the property owners along the street according to the size of their holdings and the proportionate benefits derived. The raising will greatly increase the value of Seventh street holdings and make it in many respects the best street leading from Penn avenue to the Allegheny river.

The Wabash is hustling out the tenants of the properties it has condemned along Blockhouse way, and will begin to tear down the buildings next week. The Briggs Machinery Company, which occupies the three-story brick block of John Printy at Fourth avenue and Blockhouse way, is moving to 23d Second avenue. The lot at Second avenue and the alley is already cleared and the row of ramshackle brick houses extending along the alley from Fourth to First avenue will soon come down.

Buying Ahead of Tunnel Line.

The new approach of quicker transportation to Mt. Lebanon by the new tunnel route is hustling buyers into the market and the plans near the famous old Mt. Lebanon church for selling well into this season. The Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company has sold the following lots in its Clearview allotment the past week: To Ross W. Black, Nos. 6 and 7 for $8,000, on which the buyer will build an $8,000 house; 115 in Magnolia avenue to Alfred Wedd for $800, which will be improved with a $6,000 house; 170 in Baywood avenue to Charles Roessing for $700, as the site for a $4,000 house. These lots are 50x135 feet each and face in 50-foot streets. By the new tunnel line Clearview will be within 15 minutes' ride of the postoffice. The houses already built are all high-class and the improvements on the property, including high pressure water supply, sewered, paved and lighted streets and telephone service, bring the home sites into very favorable notice with would-be buyers.

The Lindsay Manufacturing Company has purchased from Frank W. Faber 104x100 feet on the north side of Susquehanna street, Twenty-first ward, for a nominal consideration. The site is improved with a valve manufacturing plant.

Robert W. Kenney bought from James H. Orr an improved property, 40x132.5 feet on the south side of Baywood street, Nineteenth ward, for $14,000. The property has since been resold to F. J. Kennedy for the same price.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A sale of Cape of Good Hope and Natal sheepskins was held in Mincing Lane today. The offerings numbered 130,691 skins, of which 116,801 were sold. There was a fair demand from home and foreign buyers and prices were practically unchanged. Western province long wool fed and was occasionally ¼d higher. Lower grades were fractionally dearer. Coarse was scarce and sold at full rates.

INDEPENDENT REFINERS ANNOUNCE A HEAVY CUT

Sugar Will Drop 15 Points on All Grades Today as Result of Board Meeting.

Independent sugar refiners will announce a cut on all sugars of 15 points this morning. This action was taken here until yesterday by the American Sugar Refining Company. The cut is one of the heaviest made in months and comes somewhat in the nature of a surprise.

Several days ago the American company announced a raise of five points in New York. No action was taken here until yesterday when the board met to fix the price. Yesterday it was announced in New York that the American company had dropped 10 points. The independent refiners promptly decided to go five better and the cut will take effect this morning.

The effort to raise sugar at this, the tail-end of the canning season, is regarded as to have been a failure. The demand for the product is lightening decidedly with the ending of the fruit season. Of course there are immense quantities of fruit yet to be put up, but the housewives who engage in that domestic occupation have all purchased the sugar necessary for the operation, and the demand has now fallen back to normal. In the face of this the American company attempted to raise prices five points above what they were in the height of the fruit season. What the American will now do to retaliate upon the independent manufacturers is unknown, but it is possible there may be some further slashing.

Yesterday was a good day along the street, as grocers were busy laying in their supplies for today. Everything held firm. Apples were a particularly good sale, and there was a general lifting in all lines of business although prices did not shift. Peaches have moved up, the fancy stock being quoted at $1.50 and $2.00. Japanese persimmons are in the market from Florida. They are about the size of a good apple. Accompanying each box is a warning not to eat them until they are thoroughly softened. If the warning is not heeded a badly-drawn mouth and a distorted face will probably be the result, along with an attack of colic that will remind a fellow of his boyhood days.

Receipts of fruit and produce yesterday were: Apples 1 car, making 41; cabbage 2, making 23; grapes 7, making 37; onions 1, making 17; peaches 1, making 17; pears 6, making 37; potatoes 5, making 35; miscellaneous 6, making 18.

HAY AND GRAIN.

RECEIPTS.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed at the several railroad yards yesterday were as follows: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars oats, 3 cars hay. Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars hay, 4 cars oats. Pennsylvania lines, 20 cars hay, 13 cars oats, 2 cars feed, 2 cars straw, 2 cars rye.

The hay and grain market showed no change yesterday. Shelled corn is still in heavy demand and the supply is a little slack. Rye holds up and there is no immediate prospect of any drop in that grain. In fact, the dealers look for an even higher market. The demand is heavy and all good grain finds a ready sale at full quotations.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The September statement of the board of trade shows a decrease of $11,886,000 in imports and an increase of $13,064,500 in exports. The imports of foodstuffs decreased $12,500,000, and the imports of cotton increased $6,869,800. In the exports the increase was principally in cotton fabrics.

WHEAT DROPS A CENT ON RAID BY BEARS

Liberal Receipts, It Is Believed, Will Continue for a Month.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—A bear raid on the wheat pit today resulted in a net loss of nearly a cent in the price of both the December and May deliveries. Corn is off ⅛c Oats are down ⅛@¼c. Provisions declined 12½@27½c.

Signs of weakness were manifested in the wheat market at the immediate opening. Sentiment among pit traders generally showed an inclination to favor the bear side of the market. This reversal of recent existing conditions was due chiefly to a belief by many traders that the present liberal rate of wheat deliveries in the northwest was likely to continue for a month or more. Additional incentive to sell was furnished by the weak tone of cables. Prices were reported in all foreign grain markets. The weakness abroad was attributable mainly to increased shipments from Argentina and to the break in prices here yesterday. When trading began here, selling was quite general. Initial quotations showed slight losses. December being unchanged to ⅛c lower at $1 00⅛ to $1 00⅜. May was a shade to ⅜@⅝c lower at $1 04⅛ to $1 04⅝. Large receipts in the southwest started active selling by houses with southwestern connections. This was followed by profit-taking on the part of numerous small longs who were afraid of lines over holidays. Practically the only demand came from shorts. Buying to cover short sales was not of sufficient volume to absorb offerings. In consequence prices readily declined. A report by a St. Louis trade paper, stating that no complaints of consequence in regard to fall seeding had been received, brought out additional selling orders. Weakness of all the cash markets had a further depressing influence on speculative prices here. Before the bottom for the day was reached prices had dropped nearly 2 cents from yesterday's closing figures. December declining to $1 07. May sold off to $1 08. Late in the day a rally of about a cent occurred on buying by shorts. December closing at $1 08¼@1 08⅜. Final quotations on May were at $1 06@1 06⅛. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 17,400 bushels. Exports for the week according to Bradstreet's were equal to 1,106,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,236,700 bushels, compared with 1,040,800 bushels a year ago.

Extreme weakness prevailed in the corn market as a result of continuous liquidation on the part of local traders. Excellent weather and hints of a bearish government crop report were the principal factors increasing the urgent selling pressure. A partial recovery was made late in the day on covering by shorts. December opened ¼c to ⅜c lower at 49¼c to 49½c, declined to 48¼c, and closed at 48⅝c. Local receipts were 96 cars, with three of contract grade.

The weakness of wheat and corn had comparatively little effect on the oats market, prices showing only a slight decline. Selling was light in character and offerings were readily taken by shorts. December opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 30⅜c to 30⅜@30¼c, sold between 30¼c and 30½c, and closed at 30¼@30⅜c. Local receipts were 126 cars.

Provisions were affected by the break in grain prices, the market becoming weak during the latter part of the session. Selling by local holders was the cause of the weakness. At the close January pork was down 25@27½c, at $13 02½. Lard was off 12½c, at $7 47½. Ribs were down 15c, at $6 75. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 70 cars; corn, 222 cars; oats, 230 cars; hogs, 11,000 head.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 927 cars against 986 cars last week, and 751 cars a year ago.

TOLEDO, Oct. 7.—Cloverseed—Cash and October, $7 40; December, $7 42½; March, $7 52½; prime Alsike, $8 25; prime timothy, $1 35.

ALL SIGNS POINTING TO A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

With Crops Beyond Danger, Securities Reach Highest Prices Since May, 1903.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: With the crops almost beyond danger, prices of securities at the highest point since May, 1903, and idle machinery running at many factories and mills that have been closed for months, the business outlook grows steadily brighter. By far the best feature of the situation is the confidence manifested by an increased disposition to provide for future requirements. This is by no means general, but it is noticed at pig iron furnaces, woolen mills and among dealers at widely separated points, particularly those located in the agricultural sections. Mercantile collections are also more prompt, and railway earnings for the month of September were 3.8 per cent larger than in the same month last year, while foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows increases of $1,051,208 in imports and $410,748 in exports as compared with a year ago. Dispatches from the leading cities are almost unanimous in telling of improved conditions.

For the first time in many months it is possible to report that sellers of pig iron appear to have a slight advantage. They have been able to dictate terms as to delivery in some cases, and at the south, where the miners' strike is still in progress, only part of the orders were filled.

It is more difficult to find evidence of increased movement of steel, although a fair tonnage was taken by the railways. Wire mills will not accept contracts for distant delivery on account of a growing belief that better terms will be secured in the near future. Pipe is quiet and structural sh

Railroad Accidents This Year More Numerous Than Ever Before

The records of train accidents in the United States during this year will be greater than in any previous year, according to experts who are compiling statistics. Several railroad papers are printing editorials on the situation, giving their views as to what is the cause of such disasters. The principal reason given is the hurried manner in which bridges are constructed, being too weak to stand the increased weight of trains now being run over them. Others blame many accidents on the effort to increase the speed of trains.

The men who operate railroads are more anxious than any others to have and maintain perfect railways. This calls for expensive equipment in their physical aspects and for perfect discipline. One of the things that are primarily responsible for the frightful fatalities on railways is the lack of proper signal equipment. Contributory to this is the demand of the public for faster trains and unlimited facilities on the one hand and for low rates on the other. It is argued that to equip a perfect road would not cost so much as the damages for accidents to life and property.

Conference of Traffic Officials.

The association of freight traffic officers of the Pennsylvania system which embraces the Pennsylvania lines east and west of Pittsburgh, will hold its semi-annual meeting at the general office building in Philadelphia, October 19 and 20. The committees expected to present reports are rates, weights and classifications, traffic, conditions at freight stations, claims and tracing, switching, movement of traffic, soliciting, accounting and way-billing, divisions and stop-offs and blanks and forms.

Railroad Officials to Meet.

A call has been issued for the fall session of the American Railway association on Wednesday, October 26, in Philadelphia. It will be attended by the presidents, vice presidents, general managers, chief engineers and superintendents of transportations of railroads generally. A vice president, three members of the committee on car service, three members of the committee on safety appliances, and two members of the committee on locomotives are to be elected. Reports will be received from train rules, car service, safety appliances, statistical inquiry, standard cipher code and the executive committees.

Annual Track Inspection.

The annual track inspection of the Pennsylvania lines will begin October 18, the officials occupying three special trains. The route will be from Columbus to Chicago via Dayton, Richmond and Logansport. From Chicago the party will go east over the Ft. Wayne via Niles. The inspecting party includes the general manager and his official staff, the general superintendents, all the engineers of maintenance of way, all assistant engineers, all the supervisors and a detail of clerks. The inspection will consume four days. The usual prizes will be distributed after the inspection—$100 for the best supervisor's division, $50 to the second best and $50 for the best section of each supervisor's division.

Railroad Notes.

The new roundhouse at Altoona, which has cost about $2,000,000, has been put into service.

A. P. Boller, consulting engineer of the Wabash, was in Pittsburgh yesterday conferring with local officials.

The Baltimore & Ohio has awarded a contract for the erection of a $150,000 pier at Philadelphia. It will be 60 feet wide and 600 feet long.

The Buffalo & Allegheny Valley has arranged to run its floral excursion on November 13. This is run on account of the chrysanthemum show at the Phipps conservatory.

THREE FOOTBALL PLAYERS HURT IN STRENUOUS GAMES

Football players were unlucky in the lower Monongahela valley, three being injured. William Astor, aged 13, of Whitaker, had his right leg broken while playing Rugby with companions after school. Walter Jameson, aged 10, of Hawkins avenue, North Braddock, was shoved over a hillside into a deep ravine while playing near the Braddock reservoir, and painfully cut and bruised on the head, face and body. Frank Rafferty, aged 11, of Talbot avenue, Braddock, was knocked down and three of his fingers broken during a game in a vacant lot.

This Hat Department is on the third floor with Men's Clothing—both separate and apart from any and all other departments.

Today's sale Men's new Soft Hats—Tan, Brown, Pearl, Otter and Black—all the latest blocks, $1.50 each.

We want, and are going to get more Hat business— that's why these fine Hats are $1.50 and on Saturday when more men buy Hats than any other day in the week.

BOGGS & BUHL, Allegheny.

B. & B.

Come — see for yourself how much better than any $1.50 Hat you ever saw these are.

Don't buy if they're not that—and show you how much of your money you can save.

Men's Derbies, $3.00—another instance where the Hat and the price are to convince you—as to style and how much you can save.

Men's Derbies, $4.00 —save a dollar bill—as good as any five dollar Hat—unless you want to pay a Dollar extra for a certain maker's name in the Hat.

Men's London Hats, $5.00 — they're not less in price than any other first-class make of London Hats—but they are the best as to style and quality produced on the other side.

Better trimmed finer stock than the majority of Imported Hats—both Derbies and Soft Hats.

Men's Black Derby Hats, $6.00 —had this Hat made for us by as good a Hat maker as there is in America—said to him that we wanted a finer and better Man's Hat than any other made, and he produced it.

Not many men, but more than you think, want the finest and best there is, whether it's Hats or Hosiery—and they can get both here.

Boys' Hats, $1.00 to $2.00.
Caps, 25c to $1.50.
Automobile Caps, $1.00 to $3.

B. & B.

MEN—LISTEN

This is an aggressive store, and it's on the beaten track, as you know.

But it's got to get business, and to get it, nas to offer something you can't get any place else—something better—something you want.

You want your Clothes to be as smart as possible.

We pay more attention to the minor features that make clothes smart than any Clothing store in the country.

The makers tell us that—other stores get the features afterward—when the manufacturers show it in the next season's line.

When you get Clothes here you get them up to date—or ahead.

And note this—You don't have to pay any more, if as much.

Men's Sack Suits, $12.50 to $35.00.

IF YOU WANT THE NEWS FIRST YOU MUST READ THE GAZETTE

The efforts of one of The Gazette's esteemed contemporaries to print the news culminated in an amusing performance yesterday morning. In a paper leader under a big head—big enough to chronicle the killing of both the Japanese and Russian armies—the paper told its readers Mr. Carnegie would act as guide for the members of the British Iron and Steel institute on their coming tour through the United States and that Sir James Kitson, Bart., M. P., past president of the Institute, would present to Mr. Carnegie the Bessemer gold medal in recognition of his great service to the iron and steel trade throughout the world.

All this read well, but the fact is that The Gazette on Wednesday, October 5, gave its thousands of readers the same information. There were no "frills" to the story—just told in the terse and understandable manner that The Gazette is famous for. All of which again shows if you want all the news, all the time, and first, you must get The Gazette.

Drill May Have Tapped New Pool in Monongalia

Two miles south of Blacksville, in Monongalia county, W. Va., the Carnegie Gas Company and Carnahan & Co. have drilled a test on the Alpheus Sine farm into the Big Injun and the well is flowing at the rate of five barrels an hour. The pay was tapped at 85 feet in the Big Injun and it is thought that it opens up a new pool. The well was drilled by the Carnegie company for gas, but Carnahan & Co. own the oil rights on the farm and it will be turned over to them.

East of Mannington, near Downs station, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the E. W. Hamilton farm through the fourth sand and found it, like the Gordon, barren of oil and gas.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, R. G. Caldwell has completed a test on the S. E. Adams farm and has a show for a very light pumper in the Gordon. In the same district, the South Penn's No. 1 on the T. and J. Williams farm is not good for more than five barrels a day. The test on the Homer Bartlett farm is about the same kind of a pumper. The Greer Oil Company has drilled its test on the L. E. Robinson farm into the Gordon pay and the well produced 60 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district R. T. Lowndes has completed a test on the J. W. Williams farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Gordon.

In the Folsom district the South Penn has drilled its No. 52 on the Genine Robinson tract 23 feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid. The same company's No. 55 on the I. D. Morgan farm has been drilled seven feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 800 feet with fluid. The No. 3 on the John Stout farm has been drilled 60 feet below the Gordon and has just a show of oil. The No. 7 on the G. P. Hall farm has been drilled seven feet into the Gordon and has not found the pay.

In the Richwood run district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 3 on the Alfred Batson farm into the top of the Big Injun sand and has developed a fair gas pressure. In the Pine Grove extension the same company has given its No. 2 on the T. J. J. Postalwait farm a shot and the well produced 70 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

In the Meadville district, Tyler county, the Pennsboro Oil and Gas Company has drilled its No. 3 on the W. T. Knox farm through the Cow run sand and has a duster. In the Wick district the Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the H. C. Watson farm and has a show for a 25 or 30-barrel producer in the Big Injun sand.

Back of Beaver Falls, Beaver county, Pa., Holmes & Vannoy have completed their No. 3 on the T. H. Boyd farm and have a duster in the Berea grit.

BRIDE AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Assistant City Clerk Davis Receives Telegram That His Wife Is Dying in North Carolina.

Harvey B. Davis, assistant city clerk, received the following telegram yesterday from Statesville, N. C.:

"Elizabeth is not expected to live. Come at once."

This message conveyed the information that Mr. Davis' bride of only three months was at death's door. He left last night for his wife's bedside, but hardly expects to see her alive. On July 5 Mr. Davis and Miss Elizabeth Gouger were married at the home of the bride's sister, in Salt Lick, Ky. Mrs. Davis was a native of North Carolina, and about three weeks ago she went to Statesville, that state, to visit her mother. After she left Pittsburgh she contracted a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia.

Mr. Davis received word a week or so ago that his wife was ill, and he went to Statesville and remained with her until she was announced by the physician to be convalescent. He left her last Sunday, supposedly on the road to recovery, and returned to his duties at city hall. Yesterday he received a letter which she had written, stating that she did not feel as well as when he left on Sunday. A few minutes afterward a messenger boy brought the telegram stating that she was dying.

Asthma Can Be Cured

The statement of Mr. J. F. Homan, 20 E. Adams St., Chicago, proves that the worst cases of Asthma in the world are not only relieved, but are readily cured by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. He says: "Asthma kept me in terrible misery for ten years until I used your Asthma Cure. After the first trial I was a changed man. I went to sleep that night and awoke next day much relieved and I have gotten entirely over the Asthma. It is now nine years since I was cured."

Mr. W. Sererus, Cavalier, N. D., says: "I was troubled with asthma for 20 years, about 8 years ago I started to use your Asthma Cure, and have not had an attack for six years."

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 804 St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package.

One Million Dollars

Have Been Spent to Give Liquozone Free to the Sick.

When we purchased the rights to Liquozone, we decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one we learned of. We published the offer in nearly every newspaper in America, and 1,500,000 people have accepted it. In one year it has cost us over one million dollars to announce and fulfill the offer.

Don't you realize that a product must have wonderful merit to make such an offer possible? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquozone. We have published no testimonials, no physician's indorsement. We have simply asked the sick to try it—try it at our expense. And that is all we ask you, if you need it.

Kills Inside Germs.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is poison and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquozone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable:

Asthma	Hay Fever—Influenza
Abscess—Anaemia	Kidney Diseases
Bronchitis	La Grippe
Blood Disease	Leucorrhea
Bright's Disease	Liver Troubles
Bowel Troubles	Malaria—Neuralgia
Coughs—Colds	Many Heart Troubles
Consumption	Piles—Pneumonia
Colic—Croup	Pleurisy—Quinsy
Constipation	Rheumatism
Catarrh—Cancer	Scrofula
Dysentery—Diarrhea	Skin Diseases
Dandruff—Dropsy	Stomach Troubles
Dyspepsia	Throat Troubles
Eczema—Erysipelas	Tuberculosis
Fevers—Gall Stones	Tumors—Ulcers
Goitre—Gout	Women's Diseases

All diseases that begin with fever—all inflammation—all catarrh—all contagious diseases—all the results of impure or poisoned blood.

In nervous debility Liquozone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

50c Bottle Free.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it today, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c and $1.
